LEAGUE SUPREME ISSUE, SAYS COX

GOVERNOR FORMALLY ACCEPTS DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL PLACE

Nominee Goes Squarely on Record at Notification Ceremony at Dayton as Favoring Immediate Ratification of Peace Treaty---No Reference In Speech to Prohibition.

By HARRY L. ROGERS

DAYTON, O., Aug. 7.—Declaring the league of nations the supreme issue of the country, Governor James M. Cox in his speech formally accepting the Democratic nomination for the presidency, went squarely on record here today as favoring immediate ratification of the peace treaty, and asserted that America will deservedly bear "the contempt of the world" if she refuses.

The governor denounced Senator Harding's plan for ending the existing state of war as an attempt "to make a separate peace with Germany."

"Suppose Germany, recognizing the first break in the allies, proposes something we cannot accept," said Governor Cox. "Does Senator Harding intend to send an army to Germany to press our terms? If, on the other hand, Germany should accept the chance we offered of breaking the bond, it would be for the express purpose of insuring a German-American alliance, recognizing that the allies, in fact, no nation of good standing, would have anything to do with either of us."

Not once in the whole course of the speech was prohibition specifically mentioned, but in that part dealing with law enforcement, the governor said:

"It would seem quite necessary for any candidate for the presidency to say that he does not intend to violate his path of office. Anyone who is false to that oath is more unworthy than the law violator himself."

Great emphasis was laid by the governor upon "progressivism as opposed to reaction."

Gov. James M. Cox.

Other policies laid down by Governor Cox were: "Compensation" for soldiers; reduction of armament upon entrance to the league of nations; relief from war-time taxation, and substitution of a small tax on all business for the excess profits tax; a federal budget system, with reduction o fnational expense to four billion annually, maximum; ceaseless war on profiteers; definite statement of the respective rights of workers and employers in collective bargaining; ratification of the woman suffrage amendment; pitless publicity of campaign expenditures; and a fair trial for private ownership of railroads, with relief from congestion by development of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence navigation project.

Approximately one-third of the governor's speech of nearly 12,000 words was devoted to the league of nations.

"The Republican proposal means dishonor, world confusion and delay," he said referring to Senator Harding's plan for a new relationship among nations. "It would keep us in permanent company with Russia, Turkey and Mexico."

Picturing the league as a plan to make impossible a recurrence of such conflagrations as the world war, the governor bluntly laid down the question of league or no league as the real issue of the campaign.

"Senator Harding, as the Republican candidate for the presidency, proposes in plain words that we remain out of it. As the Democratic candidate I favor going in," the governor said in solemn tones.

GOV. COX'S ATTITUDE ON 12 CAMPAIGN ISSUES

LEAGUE OF NATIONS—Declares league supreme issue of century and favors immediate ratification of the peace treaty with any reservations that do not impair its "vital principle." Calls Monroe doctrine the "very essense" of article X. Declares United States could never enter war under league without sanction of congress. Favors reduction or arament on entrance into league.

PROHIBITION—Makes no specific mention of "wet" and "dry" issue, but declares legislative function subordinate to will of majority, and says any public official who fails to enforce law "is an enemy to both the constitution and the American principle of majority rule."

SOLDIER BONUS—Pledges party to rehabilitation of disabled service men but declares "considerable compensation is due those who lost much by the break in their material aspirations."

WOMAN SUFFRAGE—Expresses "same earnest hope as our platform" that amendment will be promptly ratified.

PROFITEERING—Calls profiteering the most sinister influence in America and promises to find means to make profiteers suffer penalty of criminal law.

TAXATION—Promises reduction of $2,000,000,000 yearly in national taxes with especial attention to lightening burdens of small earners. Favors repeal of excess profits tax and substitution of small tax on all going business concerns. Advocates federal budget system.

INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES—Believes collective bargaining will be helpful to general interest. Demands definite statement of rights of employers and employes in collective action.

TRANSPORTATION — Favors fair trial for railroads under private ownership, but advocates

HUNGARY HAS OFFERED AID TO FRANCE FOR WAR ON RUSSIA

Poland Sends Note to Bolsheviks Regarding Peace Negotiations.

BRODY SACKED BY REDS

Thunder of Battle Can Now Be Heard In Warsaw.

PARIS, August 7. — Hungary has formally offered France four divisions of troops for war against Russia, it was officially announced today.

PARIS, August 7.—Poland has notified the Russian soviet government that Polish envoys will enter into peace negotiations with the Russians at Minsk on condition that Russia does not attempt to interfere in Poland's internal affaffirs, said a Warsaw dispatch to the French foreign office today.

A Polish note has been sent to Moscow relative to preliminary plans for the parley.

The Poles request that the envoys at Minsk be allowed continuous wireless communication with their government and that Polish couriers be given free access through the Russian lines.

LONDON, August 7. — Bolshevik troops that captured Brody completely sacked the city, said a Polish war office communique telegraphed from Warsaw today. The communique says that the Polish lines northwest of Warsaw are holding. The text follows:

"Our lines are holding in the region of Czerwin and Ostrov. We threw back the enemy to the northern bank of the Bug river. We have been compelled to abandon Morzwic and Torespol. The Russians completely sacked Brody."

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Bolshevik forces have occupied Ostruff, and Terespol along the Polish front and in the Crimea have taken Alexandrov, according to a Moscow official statement by wireless received here today. "Wednesday we occupied Ostroff," said the statement. "Stubborn fighting continues along the left bank of the Bug. Near Brest-Litovsk we occupied Terespol. We have launched an offensive in the Crimea and occupied Alexandrov.

DEBATE BARGE LINE PROPOSAL

Pottery Manufacturers Consider Plan to Supply Plants With Coal.

Establishment of a barge line on the Ohio river to supply East Liverpool industrial plants with coal this winter is being considered by a group of pottery manufacturers here, it developed Saturday.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce Friday night, a representative of a nearby coal mining concern offered to ship coal from his mines to this city and place fuel in pottery bins at a lower cost than wholesale railroad rates for coal delivered to local sidigs. The concern would construct a landing pier here for use of its barges.

East Liverpool manufacturers are seeking to contract for this winter's coal in the upper Monongahela river fields to be shipped here by boat. The Monongahela coal would be used for firing kilns in the event of a gas shortage. The coal from the local mine is best adapted to boiler coal, it is said.

Traffic problems were discussed by the board of directors with W. A. Schlaubach, head of the Associated Traffic Bureau, here. Mr. Schlaubach is seeking to establish a traffic office in connection with the chamber of commerce.

HARDING WILL SEEK REST OVER WEEK-END

MARION, August 7.—Senator Warren G. Harding was to remain quietly at home today, although it was stated he and Mrs. Harding might take an automobile ride during the afternoon. They dined last night at the Scioto Country club, near Columbus, and about forty miles from here.

The senator was to seek rest and recreation over the week end, it was said, in anticipation of the hard campaign grind that is soon to begin for him.

REVIEW PICNIC WILL BE HELD NEXT SATURDAY

Annual Outing Will Be Featured At Rock Springs Park.

PROGRAM FOR SPORTS

Free Street Car and Amusement Tickets for the Children.

The East Liverpool Evening Review's annual outing will be staged at Rock Springs park, Saturday, August 14, it was announced today.

In keeping with the custom of previous years, free transportation tickets to and from the park will be given all children under 15 years of age in East Liverpool, Chester, Newell and Wellsville. Amusement tickets for the park concessions will be distributed among the children when the cars en route to the park reach the Chester-East Liverpool bridge.

All the park amusements, including boating, bathing, the merry-go-round and other concessions will be in operation during the day. Dancing will be held in the afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock and in the evening from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock. The Famous Players' orchestra will furnish music for the two dance periods.

A field and track meet in which every one in the district is invited to participate will be staged in the afternoon on the ball field. Charles Smith Jr., manager of the park, is planning a ball game for the late afternoon. Prizes will be awarded the winners in the track meet.

In previous years, the Review outing has attracted thousands of picnickers to the popular amusement park here and this year is expected to prove no exception.

Coupons for the free transportation tickets will be printed in the Evening Review next week. These will be exchanged for street car tickets at the Review office, Washington street.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAM FOR POLICE JOBS

A Civil Service examination to qualify applicants for two existing vacancies on the East Liverpool police department will be held Tuesday, August, 24, Joseph M. Blazer, secretary of the Civil Service commission, announced Saturday.

Pending appointment of permanent patrolmen, Chief of Police Hugh McDermott, has commissioned William Davis, George Rutledge and Charles W. Hutton, as special patrolmen. The three were sworn in Friday night and today.

The police department has been operating with two regular patrolmen short for several weeks following the resignation of Lawrence Kindsvatter and C. D. Hissam.

Sporadic Outbreaks of Rioting During Night At West Frankfort.

BRICKS ARE HURLED

Troops Ordered to Shoot to Kill if Outbreak Occurs.

BULLETIN

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Aug. 7.—Despite the presence of 1,000 state troops and machine guns here, another Italian was slain today in a resumption of the fighting between foreign and American residents.

The slain man was identified as Demetri Tarantao. He was killed with an axe.

BY JESS KRUEGER

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., August 7—Bayoneted rifles, loaded and ready for action in the hands of Illinois militiamen, held mob rule in check heretoday. Three hundred soldiers patrolled the streets in squads with orders to shoot to kill. Five hundred others are enroute to this riot-torn town to reinforce them.

There were sporadic outbreaks of rioting and shooting during the night. Bricks and stones were hurled from alleys on the patrolling soldiers and these were answered with bullets, but so far as could be learned, no one was killed.

"I have ordered my men not to shoot unless necessary, but if occasion arises, to shoot to kill," said Brigadier General Frank B. Wells, commanding the soldiery today. The city is still under civil law. There were five companies of Illinois guardsmen on duty today. Hundreds of foreigners came into the armory during the night for protection from the groups of youths and men who circulated in the streets. Several minor fires broke out during the early morning hours, but these were extinguished without much property loss by soldiers and citizens who are anxious to prevent a recurrence of the terror which was unchecked for nearly 48 hours before the soldiers arrived. Soldiers worked diligently during the night running down reports and rumors that mobs were gathering in different parts of the city. These for the most part proved groundless.

Telephone and telegraph connection with the outside world was established about midnight. The wires had been torn down when the mob rule first got under way so that the city

AN APPEAL FOR SCHOOL LEVY

Board of Education Urges the Support of Three-Mill Proposal.

Necessity of improving the three-mill school levy at the August primaries next Tuesday is strongly emphasized in an appeal to the electors of the East Liverpool city school district issued Saturday by officials of the board of education.

Here is the appeal:

"The public schools are presenting one of the main issues to the electors of this school district on Tuesday, August 10th by asking for a special three-mill levy in order to receive state aid under the new law. If the citizens of this community fail to authorize the three-mill levy, this school district wil be deprived of state aid. It is, therefore, up to the people to decide whether or not they desire to secure this state aid and thereby to maintain the efficiency of the local schools.

"The financial situation and the welfare of the boys and girls demand that this proposition shall be voted upon favorably. Every voter should ask for the school ballot when he appears at the polls to vote next Tuesday."

REPRESENTS G. O. P. IN RATIFICATION FIGHT

WARREN, August 7. — At the request of Chairman Will Hays, Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton left here last night for Nashville, Tenn., where she will represent the Republican party in the fight for ratification of the woman suffrage amendment in the Tennessee legislature.

Mrs. Upton, who is vice chairman of the Republican national committee, at the request of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, will represent the National Woman's Suffrage association.

POLISH LINES BREAK, REDS NEAR WARSAW

Bolshevik Army, Battering Down Resistance, Pushes Ahead.

GREAT BRITAIN IS ACTIVE

British Destroyers Are Reported On Their Way to the Baltic.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—(7 p. m.)—The soviet army has broken the resistance of the Poles and are advancing along th eleft bank of the Bug river toward Warsaw, according to official advices to the foreign office late today.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The British government in its efforts to prevent a new European war is making strong representations to Moscow, according to information from an authoritative source today.

But the British government is preparing for any eventuality. The dangers arising from the unchecked advance of the Russians through Poland have been intensified by news of a great red invasion of Persia, which menaces British interests in India.

The next important move in the international situation is the conference tomorrow of Lloyd George and Premier Millerand of France. While they deal with the political aspects, Field Marshal Wilson, chief of British staff, and Marshal Foch will advise on necessary military measures.

The Daily News is authority for the statement that preliminary instructions have been sent to the allied commanders on the Black Sea to co-operate with General Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik leader in southern Russia, in the event of certain contingencies.

While it is not officially confirmed that any decisive steps have yet been taken to tighten the blockade on soviet Russia, reports were current today that British destroyers are on their way to the Baltic.

British newspapers, in their editorial comment today, were more hopeful of peace than they were yesterday.

Another favorable element was contained in news from Warsaw that a Polish delegation would go to Minsk to treat with the Russians as was proposed last Tuesday when the armistice negotiations were broken off at Baranovitshi.

COX FAILS TO SPRING "SURPRISE" IN SPEECH

DAYTON, August 7—The air of mystery and speculation that has surrounded the "insert" which Governor James M. Cox had announced would be given out as a part of his formal acceptance address was dispelled at 8 o'clock this morning when the governor announced that there would be no "insert." It had been expected that this addition to the governor's speech would deal with some important domestic problem and there had been much conjecture as to its contents. No reason for his decision not to make public the "insert" was asigned by the governor.

POLES RETIRE TO NAREW RIVER LINE

BERLIN, August 7—A dispatch from Koenigsberg to the Tageblatt today says the Polish army has retired to the line of the Narey river, preparatory to abandonment of Warsaw. The move carries the Polish line north of Warsaw through Pultusk, Makow and Chorzele, the correspondent states. The retreat, he said, is purely for strategical reasons with regard to abandonment of Warsaw.

FRIENDLY HOST HEAR NOMINEE SOUND BATTLE CRY FOR 1920

Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas Makes Notification Address.

OHIO DEMOCRATS PRESENT

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Cox's Running Mate, Guest of Honor.

BY LUTHER A. HUSTON

FAIR GROUNDS, DAYTON, O., Aug. 7.—James M. Cox, governor of Ohio, formally became the 1920 standard bearer of the Democratic party here this afternoon.

In the presence of a friendly host he was officially notified of his nomination for the presidency, and in a forceful epigrammatic speech, the governor accepted the honor which the national convention at San Francisco after one of the most memorable political fights in history, conferred upon him. His address, which followed the notification speech of Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, set forth the governor's interpretation of Democracy's platform and sour Democratic battle cry of the campaign.

Rains that threatened to mar the ceremonies during the morning ceased falling before noon and as the ceremonies got under way a scorching August sun beat down upon the assembled crowds.

Assembled to honor Governor Cox, was a notable outpouring of Democratic leaders and citizens of Ohio. Delegations from numerous cities of the east and middle west joined with the governor's Ohio neighbors in celebrating his formal notification.

Participating as guests of honor were Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic vice presidential nominee; Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson; George White, chairman of the Democratic national committee; Edward C. Hoffman, secretary of the national committee, and Wilbur W. Marsh, national treasurer. Among the guests were members of national committee from every state on the union and from the several territories. Many noted suffragists and leaders of the Woman's party were on hand.

Prefacing the notification address, Rev. William A. Hale, of the Grafton avenue Reformed church pronounced the invocation. Rev. Martin P. Neville, of Holy Angels Roman Catholic church gave the benediction.

J. Sprigg McMahon, chairman of the local arrangements committee, presided.

Before the start of the ceremonies,

COX ACCEPTS WILSON IDEA

Governor's Conception of the Presidency is That of Wilson, Says Editorial.

BY J. BART CAMPBELL

MARION, O., Aug. 7.—"Governor Cox's conception of the presidency is that of Mr. Wilson," it was stated in an editorial criticising Governor Cox's speech of acceptance at Dayton which appeared in a late afternoon edition of the Marion Star, Senator Harding's newspaper today.

"As a matter of fact, later on in his speech he (Governor Cox) frankly admits it, and he can hardly hold it unfair for the country to anticipate, in the event of Democratic success in November, at least four more years, of oen-man government, of the autocracy under which the government has suffered for the past seven years.'

"The governor's speech of acceptance is not of the high character which might have been anticipated from one of the admitted ability of the governor," the editorial also stated.

"It is neither inspiring nor convincing. Its chief defect is its general tone—his references to 'conspirators,' 'plots,' 'discourtesies to the president,' 'political intrigues'—are surprising when found in the acceptance speech of the presidential candidate of a great party."

British Destroyers Are Reported On Their Way to the Baltic.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—(7 p. m.)—The soviet army has broken the resistance of the Poles and are advancing along th eleft bank of the Bug river toward Warsaw, according to official advices to the foreign office late today.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The British government in its efforts to prevent a new European war is making strong representations to Moscow, according to information from an authoritative source today.

But the British government is preparing for any eventuality. The dangers arising from the unchecked advance of the Russians through Poland have been intensified by news of a great red invasion of Persia, which menaces British interests in India.

The next important move in the international situation is the conference tomorrow of Lloyd George and Premier Millerand of France. While they deal with the political aspects, Field Marshal Wilson, chief of British staff, and Marshal Foch will advise on necessary military measures.

The Daily News is authority for the statement that preliminary instructions have been sent to the allied commanders on the Black Sea to co-operate with General Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik leader in southern Russia, in the event of certain contingencies.

While it is not officially confirmed that any decisive steps have yet been taken to tighten the blockade on soviet Russia, reports were current today that British destroyers are on their way to the Baltic.

British newspapers, in their editorial comment today, were more hopeful of peace than they were yesterday.

Another favorable element was contained in news from Warsaw that a Polish delegation would go to Minsk to treat with the Russians as was proposed last Tuesday when the armistice negotiations were broken off at Baranovitshi.

COX FAILS TO SPRING "SURPRISE" IN SPEECH

DAYTON, August 7—The air of mystery and speculation that has surrounded the "insert" which Governor James M. Cox had announced would be given out as a part of his formal acceptance address was dispelled at 8 o'clock this morning when the governor announced that there would be no "insert." It had been expected that this addition to the governor's speech would deal with some important domestic problem and there had been much conjecture as to its contents. No reason for his decision not to make public the "insert" was asigned by the governor.

POLES RETIRE TO NAREW RIVER LINE

BERLIN, August 7—A dispatch from Koenigsberg to the Tageblatt today says the Polish army has retired to the line of the Narey river, preparatory to abandonment of Warsaw. The move carries the Polish line north of Warsaw through Pultusk, Makow and Chorzele, the correspondent states. The retreat, he said, is purely for strategical reasons with regard to abandonment of Warsaw.

FRIENDLY HOST HEAR NOMINEE SOUND BATTLE CRY FOR 1920

Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas Makes Notification Address.

OHIO DEMOCRATS PRESENT

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Cox's Running Mate, Guest of Honor.

BY LUTHER A. HUSTON

FAIR GROUNDS, DAYTON, O., Aug. 7.—James M. Cox, governor of Ohio, formally became the 1920 standard bearer of the Democratic party here this afternoon.

In the presence of a friendly host he was officially notified of his nomination for the presidency, and in a forceful epigrammatic speech, the governor accepted the honor which the national convention at San Francisco after one of the most memorable political fights in history, conferred upon him. His address, which followed the notification speech of Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, set forth the governor's interpretation of Democracy's platform and sounded the Democratic battle cry of the campaign.

Rains that threatened to mar the ceremonies during the morning ceased falling before noon and as the ceremonies got under way a scorching August sun beat down upon the assembled crowds.

Assembled to honor Governor Cox, was a notable outpouring of Democratic leaders and citizens of Ohio. Delegations from numerous cities of the east and middle west joined with the governor's Ohio neighbors in celebrating his formal notification.

Participating as guests of honor were Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic vice presidential nominee; Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson; George White, chairman of the Democratic national committee; Edward C. Hoffman, secretary of the national committee, and Wilbur W. Marsh, national treasurer. Among the guests were members of national committee from every state on the union and from the several territories. Many noted suffragists and leaders of the Woman's party were on hand.

Prefacing the notification address, Rev. William A. Hale, of the Grafton avenue Reformed church pronounced the invocation. Rev. Martin P. Neville, of Holy Angels Roman Catholic church gave the benediction.

J. Sprigg McMahon, chairman of the local arrangements committee, presided.

Before the start of the ceremonies,

COX ACCEPTS WILSON IDEA

Governor's Conception of the Presidency is That of Wilson, Says Editorial.

BY J. BART CAMPBELL

MARION, O., Aug. 7.—"Governor Cox's conception of the presidency is that of Mr. Wilson," it was stated in an editorial criticising Governor Cox's speech of acceptance at Dayton which appeared in a late afternoon edition of the Marion Star, Senator Harding's newspaper today.

"As a matter of fact, later on in his speech he (Governor Cox) frankly admits it, and he can hardly hold it unfair for the country to anticipate, in the event of Democratic success in November, at least four more years, of oen-man government, of the autocracy under which the government has suffered for the past seven years.'

"The governor's speech of acceptance is not of the high character which might have been anticipated from one of the admitted ability of the governor," the editorial also stated.

"It is neither inspiring nor convincing. Its chief defect is its general tone—his references to 'conspirators,' 'plots,' 'discourtesies to the president,' 'political intrigues'—are surprising when found in the acceptance speech of the presidential candidate of a great party."

Governor and Mrs. Cox entertained a large number of guests, including Vice Presidenttial Nominee Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt, at Trails End. Many women members of the Democratic national committee attended.

In order that Governor Cox and Mr. Roosevelt might march at the head of the big parade, the start of the pageant was delayed and the whole program was accordingly set back.

At 2:05 p. m., Gilbert M. Cox, the 87-year old father of the nominee ended the speaker's stand and was appointed by the crowd.

pounding their way to Warsaw, can now be heard in this city. At intervals throughout the day, the rumble of artillery fire was audible from the region of the Narew river, where red cavalry is reported to be only 28 miles from the capital.

The Russians have taken Przasnysz, 30 miles north of Warsaw, and are still advancing, despite Polish resistance.

Red patrols were only a few miles from the Warsaw-Danzig railway at last reports.

Three thousand of General Budenny's red cavalry army has been shifted from the south to the vicinity of Mlava. Warsaw is their objective. They are trying to swing around the Polish left wing.

A gigantic effort is being made to hold the Russians along the line of the Bug river. Tanks, cavalry and airplanes have been thrust into the fray in a desperate attempt to halt the red cavalry. Whippet tanks are active along a great width of the battle front. Warsaw has more the appearance of a military rail head than a national capital. Streams of tanks, transports, limbers, cavalry, artillery and infantry are passing through the city.

The stock exchange has closed in panic. The mark has collapsed entirely and is quoted at 400 to one American dollar.

GOVERNOR

is the same in principle as the League to Enforce Peace, headed by former President Taft and supported by other prominent Republicans, the governor proceeded to a vigorous defense of article X, of which, he declared the Monroe doctrine "is the very essence."

Enemies of the league, the governor said, hypocritically claim it will drag us into foreign wars, "but they fail to realize that every high school youngster in the land knows that no treaty can override our constitution, which reserves to congress, and to congress alone, the power to declare war."

The plank in the Democratic platform calling for immediate ratification of the treaty without reservations impairing its essential integrity, means, the governor said, "that we shall state our interpretation of the covenant as a matter of good faith to our associates and as a precaution against any misunderstanding." The platform, he asserted, lays no bars against additions that will be helpful so long as they do not "disturb the vital principle."

Reservations, the governor continued, may be unnecessary but "they will at least be reassuring to many of our citizens who feel that in signing the treaty, there should be no mental reservations that are not expressed in plain words, as a matter of faith to our associates.

Gov. Cox, after condemning the "failure" of the Republican congress "to lift from the people a heavy burden of war taxation," pledged a Democratic administration to reduce national taxes in excess of two billion dollars yearly. He promised to "modify sharply" taxes on small wage earners, salaried and professional men, the agricultural producer and the small trades man. He suggested the substitution for the excess profits tax of a tax of from one to one and a half per cent on every going business concern.

Profiteers he denounced as the most sinister influence in American life and he promised if elected to find means of compelling them "to use the same yardstick of honesty that governs the most of us" or suffer the penalty of criminal law.

Protection of public life and property, "but absolute impartiality, leaving public opinion to do the rest," is the function of the government in industrial disturbances, Governor Cox asserted. Infringement of the rights of free speech and free press, he said, are unwarranted by present conditions. Collective bargaining, he declared, will be helpful, but "we need a definite and precise statement of policy as to what businessmen and workingmen may do and may not do in the way of combination and collective action."

Decreased tenantry, land reclamation, regulation of cold storage, federal sanction of co-operative buying and selling for farmers; and appointment of real farmers to positions of importance in the government, were part of the program urged by Governor Cox as a means of improving agricultural conditions and halting the movement of farmers to the cities.

Adoption of the budget system and the consolidation of departments, the governor declared, can be made to result in a reduction of the expense of the government, without loss of efficiency, to a maximum of four billion dollars, including sinking fund interest on the national debt.

Te Democratic party was pledged by Governor Cox to prompt rehabilitation of disabled soldiers, who, he asserted, have lost much "by the break in material hopes and aspirations."

The same "earnest hope as our platform" that some of the remaining states will promptly ratify the suffrage amendment, was expressed by the governor.

Sharp issue with Senator Harding on the question of "government by party" was expressed by the governor when he said:

"I am grateful to the Democratic party, but I am glad to say that it has always recognized that my official duties were to the people as a whole, and has in no case attempted to interfere under pretext of party responsibility, with my right of personal judgment under oath, in the performance of those duties."

DENVER UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Three Persons Killed In Strike Rioting Last Night.

DENVER, Aug. 7.—Denver today is under martial law and quiet prevailed Two hundred and fifty regular troops from Fort Logan, nearby, under command of Col. C. C. Ballou, arrived in the city following further serious rioting last night in which three persons were killed, one other is dying and eleven more wounded.

Five hundred additional regular army troops will leave Camp Funston, Kans., early today on special trains arriving in Denver this evening and military rule will govern the city until disorders growing out of the street railway strike have been subdued and quiet restored. All public gatherings have been banned, but theatres will be permitted to run. One company of troops is guarding the East Side car barns where the fatal shooting occurred, the remainder being held at the city auditorium, in readiness to move immediately upon the outbreak of disturbances in any part of the city.

Settlement of the strike which has tied up traffic since last Sunday was in prospect today following an all-night session of the executive board of the tramway union, at the conclusion of which it was voted to recommend at a mass meeting of the strikers today that the strike be called off immediately.

STRIKE THREATENS COAL DELIVERIES TO FRANCE

PARIS, Aug. 7.—Complete suspension of German coal deliveries to France, which were promised by the Germans at the Spa conference, is threatened as a result of a strike of coal miners in the Saar basin, the newspaper Liberte stated today. The miners went on strike against the administration of the Saar territory by the league of nations.

ARREST FORMER BANK TELLERS

Two Men Are Accused of Embezzlement At Niles.

COLUMBUS, August 7—Announcement of the arrest of Charles R. Nicholas and Karl R. Welsch, recently tellers in the Dollar Savings Bank, Niles, for alleged embezzlement and misapplication of about $50,000, of the bank's funds and for making alleged false entries in the bank's records, was made here today by State Banking Superintendent Pontius.

Bound over to the Trumbull county grand jury, both young men, it was announced, were released on $10,000 bonds.

The alleged shortage will not affect the solvency of the bank which has a combined capital, surplus and undivided profits exceeding $250,000, Supt. Pontius stated. The bank's resources, it is said, are nearly $2,500,000.

A statement, issued by Superintendent Pontius, says the deposed tellers assumed full resuonsibility for the alleged misapplication of funds, and, that, apparently, a large part of their peculations was in buying real estate, stocks and high powered automobiles.

SPANISH KING AND BRITISH PRINCE TAKE PART IN EXCITING POLO GAME

This photograph of two old world notables was taken at the royal polo match at Roehampton, England, recently. That the rivalry was entirely good-natured is indicated by the photograph.

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

BY DAISY DEAN

"Polly With a Past," the play which made such a huge success on Broadway two seasons ago is to b done with Ina Claire in the part of Polly. Miss Claire created the part on the stage and this will be her first appearance in pictures.

"It is because I know Polly and when I heard several other stars were after the rights and intended to bring my old friend to the screen, I at once let it be known I would play the part. Mary Pickford is one star who wanted it. Now I believe she is the greatest screen artist in the world, but I just could not see her as Polly. There is a certain amount of sex in this play, and I don't believe Mary would care to play any part that even suggests such a thing."

That makes it unanimous in favor of Miss Claire for the part.

Miss Westover in Sweden.

Winifred Westover has arrived in Sweden, where she will start work at once in her first production to be made abroad. A card from the attractive young leading woman states that she is already homesick for the dear old U. S. A. Miss Westover is to star in a series of plays to be adapted from the Scandinavian classics. She has recently appeared in suport of Charles Ray, William S. Hart, Buck Jones and Douglas Fairbanks.

A Reducing Trip.

Miss Sidney Drew is leaving for a trip in the Adirondacks. She has a twofold purpose in hiding herself away from the bright lights. One is to reduce, the other to write two adaptations. Naturally the first is of far more importance to the lady—any woman will tell you the discusion of gaining or losing flesh is the biggest thing in her life, especially the latter. How many kindred souls have united on that common ground? It has formed the basis of conversation for many a luncheon party. Mrs. Drew is taking a Swedish masseuse with her and she promises to emerge from the camp svelte, slender and lovely. She says a regular sylph. If she succeeds in removing her superfluous flesh she will have every woman she knows trying to get the secret.

Cinema Shorts.

Doraldina, dancer, has started work on her first movie, "The Passion Fruit.'

Lucy Cotton is to apear opposite Bert Lytell in "The Misleading Lady."

"Betty Sets the Pace," comedy, stars Muriel Ostriche.

Juanita Hansen is to star in "The Phantom Foe."

"Ruth of the Rochies" is the title of the serial Ruth Roland is now making.

Wallace McDonald wears an oriental costume and plays the violin in "Moon Madness."

Inspector of service for the Santa Fe railroad, covering approximately 4,000 miles on its destern divisions, and looking after the welfare of more than 800 women in its employ, is the unique position now occupied by Mrs. Adele B. Price, former Hollywood matron, women's club president and teacher of music. She declares that her new work is the greatest thing she has ever undertaken and says it is much more worth while than club work or music.

Mrs. Price took up her work two years ago when the railroad administration was running the railroads. This branch of the transportation business is one phase of railroading the companies decided to keep when the government let go of the roads. Fourteen railroad companies now have women for service inspectors. There are said to be 86,000 women in the employ of the railroads in this country. They are well paid workers and are said to be less inclined to participate in labor disputes than men.

Young women who learn telegraphy are generally sent out along the line to the little "tank towns," where there is seldom more than a box car house to shelter the station agent. Some of these girls act as telegraph operators and station agents, and actually perform all the duties in connection with the job, such as throwing switches and hanging the mail pouches on the crane, where the mail cars can pick them up at full speed.

Mrs. Price makes it her business to visit all the women employed by the company and see that they are kept happy and contented. To dispel the monotony of life in the small towns of the desert she has provided a traveling libary, and trainmen have been instructed to gather up the discarded newspapers and magazines and drop them off at the desert stations.

Rest rooms are being provided in the larger cities, where many women are employed by the company. In San Francisco there are ninety women acting as coach cleaners and car washers. By having a gutter put in to carry off the wash water that drips from the sides of the cars Mrs. Price has prevented a lot of wet feet, improved the health of these women and earned their everlasting gratitude.

Among her other duties is that of settling disputes among the women in the company's employ. She keeps in touch with the women who work in its many railroad lunch rooms all along the line, and by holding frequent meetings with them and showing them that her sole aim is to better their working conditions, she has been able to build up the morale wonderfully, the officials say. Because they can tell their troubles to one of their own sex the women will confide in her when they won't tell their troubles to men who are officials of the railroad, and this makes it possible to iron out many little issues which formerly could not be settled happily.

PRAISE WORK OF W. I. LEWIS

Resolutions Express Appreciation of Services of Retiring C. of C. Secretary.

Approaching departure of W. Irving Lewis, resigned secretary of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, was marked by the passage of resolutions expressing appreciation of his services here at the regular meeting of the board of directors Friday night.

The meeting was the last at which Mr. Lewis will serve in an official capacity. A rising vote was extended Mr. Lewis when President Joseph Betz called for action on the measure. Here is the resolution:

"Be it resolved by the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce that, whereas our secretary, W. Irving Lewis, has resigned his position with this organization and the same has been duly accepted,

"We hereby express our sincere regrets in losing the services of Mr. Lewis, who for the past three and one-half years has given us his most faithful and valuable services in a secretarial capacity.

"We further express our appreciation of Mr. Lewis personally and for his good work officially, during his connection with this organization and especially for his clean, competent and never tiring efforts in our behalf.

"We hereby extend to him our true thanks for his work while with us, and we wish hi mevery success in his new position in which we feel confident he will make good."

Mr. Lewis will sever his connection with the East Liverpool organization next Wednesday and will assume his new duties as secretary-manager o. the Newark Chamber of Commerce Monday, August 16.

H. B. Barth, treasurer of the chamber of commerce, will act as secretary pending appointment of a successor to Mr. Lewis.

ARMSTRONG IS TO BE RETAINED

Efficient Work of County Engineer Gives Assurance of His Nomination Tuesday.

There are a few people in this county who have little conception of the tremendous work that is required of the County Engineer and his assistants in the construction of the roads in this county. They fail to realize that Columbiana county not only is one of the biggest counties in the state, but that on account of its typography, with its hills and hollows, it is probably one of the hardest counties in this state in which to construct roads and maintain them after they have been constructed.

It is easy enough to stand off and criticize. There are always plenty of critics, some honest and others having an object in their criticism. But no man of intelligence, who has even a fair conception of the tremendous task that confronts the Engineer will condemn him merely on rumor. It is not fair to him.

Herman C. Armstrong, since he has been the county engineer, has been on the job working night and day. It is part of his duty to make all the plans and specifications and work out all the details relative to road and bridge work.

Roads and bridge funds are spent under the jurisdiction of the county surveyor, but not until said funds have been approved by the board of county commissioners.

Largely through the efforts of the county engineer the county has been able to secure funds from the state highway department for maintenance on all state roads which gives Columbiana county its fair share of the automobile tax. He has also been able to secure from the state highway department trucks and other equipment and his personal acqnaintance with state highway officials insures Columbiana's full share of state aid.

Engineer Armstrong has a thorough knowledge of the road and bridge needs of the county and recommendations have been made to the board of county commissioners concerning all these improvements. His cooperation with the commissioners has been one of his chief assets in his successful administration of the office.

Engineer Armstrong is an advocate for the construction of a heavier road foundation which will carry the unusual truck traffic, which has developed in the last few years.

The tremendous amount of work now under way in the county, with fourteen crews on road work, and painting and repairing bridges, besides the supervision of fourteen cement gives a faint idea that it is a man's job. Engineer Armstrong has superintended the building of 125 miles of road in the county and plans are under way for a second hundred miles and with funds available from the two-mill levy, make it possible for the additional improvement.

Engineer Armstrong has built up an organization in his office that could not be replaced with an inexperienced force without great loss to the county. Wouldn't it be bad policy to make a change at this time. Would any private corporation think for a moment of throwing out an experienced force just in the middle of a big contract and replacing it by inexperienced people? The voters of Columbiana county will retain Engineer Armstrong and vote for him at the August primaries. It would be worse than foolish to make a change at this time. (Adv.)

No one was hit, but the shot had a salutary effect on the mob and it slowly retreated under the guns. Branson suffered a nasty scalp wound.

FRIENDLY HOST

Governor and Mrs. Cox entertained a large number of guests, including Vice Presidenttial Nominee Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt, at Trails End. Many women members of the Democratic national committee attended.

In order that Governor Cox and Mr. Roosevelt might march at the head of the big parade, the start of the pageant was delayed and the whole program was accordingly set back.

At 2:05 p. m., Gilbert M. Cox, the 87-year old father of the nominee ended the speaker's stand and was appointed by the crowd.

pounding their way to Warsaw, can now be heard in this city. At intervals throughout the day, the rumble of artillery fire was audible from the region of the Narew river, where red cavalry is reported to be only 28 miles from the capital.

The Russians have taken Przasnysz, 30 miles north of Warsaw, and are still advancing, despite Polish resistance.

Red patrols were only a few miles from the Warsaw-Danzig railway at last reports.

Three thousand of General Budenny's red cavalry army has been shifted from the south to the vicinity of Mlava. Warsaw is their objective. They are trying to swing around the Polish left wing.

A gigantic effort is being made to hold the Russians along the line of the Bug river. Tanks, cavalry and airplanes have been thrust into the fray in a desperate attempt to halt the red cavalry. Whippet tanks are active along a great width of the battle front. Warsaw has more the appearance of a military rail head than a national capital. Streams of tanks, transports, limbers, cavalry, artillery and infantry are passing through the city.

The stock exchange has closed in panic. The mark has collapsed entirely and is quoted at 400 to one American dollar.

WOODROW WILSON — Declares Republican discourtesy to Woodrow Wilson a political intrigue and says history will make it odious.

CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURES —Demands both parties to tell plain truth as to campaign expenditures and disbursements.

is the same in principle as the League to Enforce Peace, headed by former President Taft and supported by other prominent Republicans, the governor proceeded to a vigorous defense of article X, of which, he declared the Monroe doctrine "is the very essence."

Enemies of the league, the governor said, hypocritically claim it will drag us into foreign wars, "but they fail to realize that every high school youngster in the land knows that no treaty can override our constitution, which reserves to congress, and to congress alone, the power to declare war."

The plank in the Democratic platform calling for immediate ratification of the treaty without reservations impairing its essential integrity, means, the governor said, "that we shall state our interpretation of the covenant as a matter of good faith to our associates and as a precaution against any misunderstanding." The platform, he asserted, lays no bars against additions that will be helpful so long as they do not "disturb the vital principle."

Reservations, the governor continued, may be unnecessary but "they will at least be reassuring to many of our citizens who feel that in signing the treaty, there should be no mental reservations that are not expressed in plain words, as a matter of faith to our associates.

Gov. Cox, after condemning the "failure" of the Republican congress "to lift from the people a heavy burden of war taxation," pledged a Democratic administration to reduce national taxes in excess of two billion dollars yearly. He promised to "modify sharply" taxes on small wage earners, salaried and professional men, the agricultural producer and the small trades man. He suggested the substitution for the excess profits tax of a tax of from one to one and a half per cent on every going business concern.

Profiteers he denounced as the most sinister influence in American life and he promised if elected to find means of compelling them "to use the same yardstick of honesty that governs the most of us" or suffer the penalty of criminal law.

Protection of public life and property, "but absolute impartiality, leaving public opinion to do the rest," is the function of the government in industrial disturbances, Governor Cox asserted. Infringement of the rights of free speech and free press, he said, are unwarranted by present conditions. Collective bargaining, he declared, will be helpful, but "we need a definite and precise statement of policy as to what businessmen and workingmen may do and may not do in the way of combination and collective action."

Decreased tenantry, land reclamation, regulation of cold storage, federal sanction of co-operative buying and selling for farmers; and appointment of real farmers to positions of importance in the government, were part of the program urged by Governor Cox as a means of improving agricultural conditions and halting the movement of farmers to the cities.

Adoption of the budget system and the consolidation of departments, the governor declared, can be made to result in a reduction of the expense of the government, without loss of efficiency, to a maximum of four billion dollars, including sinking fund interest on the national debt.

Te Democratic party was pledged by Governor Cox to prompt rehabilitation of disabled soldiers, who, he asserted, have lost much "by the break in material hopes and aspirations."

The same "earnest hope as our platform" that some of the remaining states will promptly ratify the suffrage amendment, was expressed by the governor.

Sharp issue with Senator Harding on the question of "government by party" was expressed by the governor when he said:

"I am grateful to the Democratic party, but I am glad to say that it has always recognized that my official duties were to the people as a whole, and has in no case attempted to interfere under pretext of party responsibility, with my right of personal judgment under oath, in the performance of those duties."

STRIKE THREATENS COAL DELIVERIES TO FRANCE

PARIS, Aug. 7.—Complete suspension of German coal deliveries to France, which were promised by the Germans at the Spa conference, is threatened as a result of a strike of coal miners in the Saar basin, the newspaper Liberte stated today. The miners went on strike against the administration of the Saar territory by the league of nations.

ARREST FORMER BANK TELLERS

Two Men Are Accused of Embezzlement At Niles.

COLUMBUS, August 7—Announcement of the arrest of Charles R. Nicholas and Karl R. Welsch, recently tellers in the Dollar Savings Bank, Niles, for alleged embezzlement and misapplication of about $50,000, of the bank's funds and for making alleged false entries in the bank's records, was made here today by State Banking Superintendent Pontius.

Bound over to the Trumbull county grand jury, both young men, it was announced, were released on $10,000 bonds.

The alleged shortage will not affect the solvency of the bank which has a combined capital, surplus and undivided profits exceeding $250,000, Supt. Pontius stated. The bank's resources, it is said, are nearly $2,500,000.

A statement, issued by Superintendent Pontius, says the deposed tellers assumed full resuonsibility for the alleged misapplication of funds, and, that, apparently, a large part of their peculations was in buying real estate, stocks and high powered automobiles.

DENVER UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Three Persons Killed In Strike Rioting Last Night.

DENVER, Aug. 7.—Denver today is under martial law and quiet prevailed Two hundred and fifty regular troops from Fort Logan, nearby, under command of Col. C. C. Ballou, arrived in the city following further serious rioting last night in which three persons were killed, one other is dying and eleven more wounded.

Five hundred additional regular army troops will leave Camp Funston, Kans., early today on special trains arriving in Denver this evening and military rule will govern the city until disorders growing out of the street railway strike have been subdued and quiet restored. All public gatherings have been banned, but theatres will be permitted to run. One company of troops is guarding the East Side car barns where the fatal shooting occurred, the remainder being held at the city auditorium, in readiness to move immediately upon the outbreak of disturbances in any part of the city.

Settlement of the strike which has tied up traffic since last Sunday was in prospect today following an all-night session of the executive board of the tramway union, at the conclusion of which it was voted to recommend at a mass meeting of the strikers today that the strike be called off immediately.

This photograph of two old world notables was taken at the royal polo match at Roehampton, England, recently. An exciting game was played between the Madrid and Roehampton polo teams, the king and the prince being matched against each other. That the rivalry was entirely good-natured is indicated by the photograph.

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

"Polly With a Past," the play which made such a huge success on Broadway two seasons ago is to b done with Ina Claire in the part of Polly. Miss Claire created the part on the stage and this will be her first appearance in pictures.

"It is because I know Polly and when I heard several other stars were after the rights and intended to bring my old friend to the screen, I at once let it be known I would play the part. Mary Pickford is one star who wanted it. Now I believe she is the greatest screen artist in the world, but I just could not see her as Polly. There is a certain amount of sex in this play, and I don't believe Mary would care to play any part that even suggests such a thing."

That makes it unanimous in favor of Miss Claire for the part.

Miss Westover in Sweden.

Winifred Westover has arrived in Sweden, where she will start work at once in her first production to be made abroad. A card from the attractive young leading woman states that she is already homesick for the dear old U. S. A. Miss Westover is to star in a series of plays to be adapted from the Scandinavian classics. She has recently appeared in suport of Charles Ray, William S. Hart, Buck Jones and Douglas Fairbanks.

A Reducing Trip.

Miss Sidney Drew is leaving for a trip in the Adirondacks. She has a twofold purpose in hiding herself away from the bright lights. One is to reduce, the other to write two adaptations. Naturally the first is of far more importance to the lady—any woman will tell you the discusion of gaining or losing flesh is the biggest thing in her life, especially the latter. How many kindred souls have united on that common ground? It has formed the basis of conversation for many a luncheon party. Mrs. Drew is taking a Swedish masseuse with her and she promises to emerge from the camp svelte, slender and lovely. She says a regular sylph. If she succeeds in removing her superfluous flesh she will have every woman she knows trying to get the secret.

Cinema Shorts.

Doraldina, dancer, has started work on her first movie, "The Passion Fruit."

Lucy Cotton is to apear opposite Bert Lytell in "The Misleading Lady."

"Betty Sets the Pace," comedy, stars Muriel Ostriche.

Juanita Hansen is to star in "The Phantom Foe."

"Ruth of the Rochies" is the title of the serial Ruth Roland is now making.

Wallace McDonald wears an oriental costume and plays the violin in "Moon Madness."

Inspector of service for the Santa Fe railroad, covering approximately 4,000 miles on its destern divisions, and looking after the welfare of more than 800 women in its employ, is the unique position now occupied by Mrs. Adele B. Price, former Hollywood matron, women's club president and teacher of music. She declares that her new work is the greatest thing she has ever undertaken and says it is much more worth while than club work or music.

Mrs. Price took up her work two years ago when the railroad administration was running the railroads. This branch of the transportation business is one phase of railroading the companies decided to keep when the government let go of the roads. Fourteen railroad companies now have women for service inspectors. There are said to be 86,000 women in the employ of the railroads in this country. They are well paid workers and are said to be less inclined to participate in labor disputes than men.

Young women who learn telegraphy are generally sent out along the line to the little "tank towns," where there is seldom more than a box car house to shelter the station agent. Some of these girls act as telegraph operators and station agents, and actually perform all the duties in connection with the job, such as throwing switches and hanging the mail pouches on the crane, where the mail cars can pick them up at full speed.

Mrs. Price makes it her business to visit all the women employed by the company and see that they are kept happy and contented. To dispel the monotony of life in the small towns of the desert she has provided a traveling libary, and trainmen have been instructed to gather up the discarded newspapers and magazines and drop them off at the desert stations.

Rest rooms are being provided in the larger cities, where many women are employed by the company. In San Francisco there are ninety women acting as coach cleaners and car washers. By having a gutter put in to carry off the wash water that drips from the sides of the cars Mrs. Price has prevented a lot of wet feet, improved the health of these women and earned their everlasting gratitude.

Among her other duties is that of settling disputes among the women in the company's employ. She keeps in touch with the women who work in its many railroad lunch rooms all along the line, and by holding frequent meetings with them and showing them that her sole aim is to better their working conditions, she has been able to build up the morale wonderfully, the officials say. Because they can tell their troubles to one of their own sex the women will confide in her when they won't tell their troubles to men who are officials of the railroad, and this makes it possible to iron out many little issues which formerly could not be settled happily.

PRAISE WORK OF W. I. LEWIS

Resolutions Express Appreciation of Services of Retiring C. of C. Secretary.

Approaching departure of W. Irving Lewis, resigned secretary of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, was marked by the passage of resolutions expressing appreciation of his services here at the regular meeting of the board of directors Friday night.

The meeting was the last at which Mr. Lewis will serve in an official capacity. A rising vote was extended Mr. Lewis when President Joseph Betz called for action on the measure. Here is the resolution:

"Be it resolved by the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce that, whereas our secretary, W. Irving Lewis, has resigned his position with this organization and the same has been duly accepted,

"We hereby express our sincere regrets in losing the services of Mr. Lewis, who for the past three and one-half years has given us his most faithful and valuable services in a secretarial capacity.

"We further express our appreciation of Mr. Lewis personally and for his good work officially, during his connection with this organization and especially for his clean, competent and never tiring efforts in our behalf.

"We hereby extend to him our true thanks for his work while with us, and we wish hi mevery success in his new position in which we feel confident he will make good."

Mr. Lewis will sever his connection with the East Liverpool organization next Wednesday and will assume his new duties as secretary-manager o. the Newark Chamber of Commerce Monday, August 16.

H. B. Barth, treasurer of the chamber of commerce, will act as secretary pending appointment of a successor to Mr. Lewis.

The deceased had been a resident of this city for many years. She was on a visit at the time of her death. She is survived by two sons, John and James of this city; four daughters, Mrs. Frank Campbell, Mrs. Sadie Edgell, Mrs. William Graham, all of this city, and Mrs. James Phillips of Akron.

Efficient Work of County Engineer Gives Assurance of His Nomination Tuesday.

There are a few people in this county who have little conception of the tremendous work that is required of the County Engineer and his assistants in the construction of the roads in this county. They fail to realize that Columbiana county not only is one of the biggest counties in the state, but that on account of its typography, with its hills and hollows, it is probably one of the hardest counties in this state in which to construct roads and maintain them after they have been constructed.

It is easy enough to stand off and criticize. There are always plenty of critics, some honest and others having an object in their criticism. But no man of intelligence, who has even a fair conception of the tremendous task that confronts the Engineer will condemn him merely on rumor. It is not fair to him.

Herman C. Armstrong, since he has been the county engineer, has been on the job working night and day. It is part of his duty to make all the plans and specifications and work out all the details relative to road and bridge work.

Roads and bridge funds are spent under the jurisdiction of the county surveyor, but not until said funds have been approved by the board of county commissioners.

Largely through the efforts of the county engineer the county has been able to secure funds from the state highway department for maintenance on all state roads which gives Columbiana county its fair share of the automobile tax. He has also been able to secure from the state highway department trucks and other equipment and his personal acquaintance with state highway officials insures Columbiana's full share of state aid.

Engineer Armstrong has a thorough knowledge of the road and bridge needs of the county and recommendations have been made to the board of county commissioners concerning all these improvements. His cooperation with the commissioners has been one of his chief assets in his successful administration of the office.

Engineer Armstrong is an advocate for the construction of a heavier road foundation which will carry the unusual truck traffic, which has developed in the last few years.

The tremendous amount of work now under way in the county, with fourteen crews on road work, and painting and repairing bridges, besides the supervision of fourteen comment gives a faint idea that it is a man's job. Engineer Armstrong has superintended the building of 125 miles of road in the county and plans are under way for a second hundred miles and with funds available from the two-mill levy, make it possible for the additional improvement.

Engineer Armstrong has built up an organization in his office that could not be replaced with an inexperienced force without great loss to the county. Wouldn't it be bad policy to make a change at this time. Would any private corporation think for a moment of throwing out an experienced force just in the middle of a big contract and replacing it by inexperienced people? The voters of Columbiana county will retain Engineer Armstrong and vote for him at the August primaries. It would be worse than foolish to make a change at this time. (Adv.)

MILL TO NAME FLOOR QUINTET

Plans are under way here for the organization of a basketball team among the employes of the American Sheet and Tin Plate plant, it was announced today.

A call was issued today for all employes of the mill interested in the organization of such a team to report at the mill playground this evening at 6 o'clock when preliminary steps will be taken toward the election of officers and the selection of players for the trials. Officials of the organization probably will conduct a series of games in order to select the best material.

Mill officials who are backing the movement believe that a first class quintet can be formed from the wealth of material.

With the organization of the team, games will be scheduled with all first class basketball teams in the district, all games being played in theopen. The courts here are the best in the district, and, it is said, the majority of the games will likely be staged here. Arrangements are already under way for games with the American Sheet and Tin Plate Co., quintet of Chester, W. Va.

Players who report for the meeting this evening are requested to appear in their uniforms. A series of games will be staged at the playground following the meet. At this time it is probable that officers of the new organization will consider the advisability of forming a league in order that all mill employes desiring to compete in this sport will be given an opportunity to join one of the clubs.

Unclaimed Mail.

The following names are on the unclaimed mail list at the local postoffice:

W. H. Ambler, John D. Brown, Joseph R. Coakley, Walter Cox, Mason M. Culver, Sam Cold, Bert Callendar, Fred Ewing, Mrs. Belle Flowers, Foster Haught, Dr. W. J. Judy, Abe Long, John La Belle, Mrs. La Glenn, Mrs. Isabelle Leith, Roy Murphy, Mark McCray, K. McDonald, Mrs. Vera Rogennaser, Fille Soffer, Mrs. Mattie Temhill, Joe Walker and Mrs. Nadene Wilson.

PLAYLOT BASKETBALL TEAM WINS GAME

By the score of 29-7, the Wellsville playground basketball team last night defeated an organization of court performers from the East Liverpool playground here last night.

Officials of the local team, in order to place the club on an even basis with the East Liverpool squad, were permitted to substitute several older players in the lineup.

Arrangements were partially completed for a baseball game between teams fro mthe local and East Liverpool playgrounds to be staged here next Wednesday.

Miss Myrtle Gates Hostess.

Miss Myrtle Gates of Washington avenue was hostess to a number of her friends at her home Thursday evening. Music and games were the diversions. At the close of the affair, refreshments were served by the hostess, covers being laid for 25 guests.

M. E. Church Conference.

Members of the congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church will attend the fourth quarterly conference to be held in the auditorium of the church next Wednesday, August 11. Class meeting will be held on Tuesday evening with J. E. Hart as leader.

VOTING PLACES FOR TUESDAY'S PRIMARIES

With the county primary election but three days distant, candidates for the various offices are busily engaged in canvassing the Wellsville district for votes. Nominations for practically all county offices will be made at the polls Tuesday.

With only two candidates in the field, Wellsville's interest in the primaries has not reached the height that it has in other places in the county where a larger number of candidates are contesting. Wellsville has a single candidate for office on the Republican ticket, William Nicholson, who seeks the nomination for sheriff. William Aughinbaugh is not opposed for nomination for state representative on the Democratic ticket. In their last swing around the county, candidates in large number were in the city today.

Voting places for Tuesday have been selected as follows:

First ward—Precinct A, Floto building, Third street; precinct B, Dennis plumbing shop, Main street.

Second ward—Precinct A, Union office, Eighth and Main streets; precinct B, fire station, near Ninth street.

Third ward—Precinct A, Morgan's store, Commerce street, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets; precinct B, Van Dyke building, Main street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets.

Fourth ward—Precinct A, Pullum's pool room, Main street, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets; precinct B, basement Second Presbyterian church, Eighteenth and Maple streets.

Yellow Creek township—West precinct, Township house, Highlandtown road; East precinct, Hardscrable school on Beantown road.

Eastern Star to Entertain.

Officers of the Order of Eastern Star, No. 417, Wellsville chapter, are planning a weiner sizzle and marshmallow toast to be held next Wednesday evening in the creek bottom.

Members of the organization will assemble in the creek bottom at 7 o'clock. Masons and their families have been invited to attend the affair.

MILL TO NAME FLOOR QUINTET

Plans are under way here for the organization of a basketball team among the employes of the American Sheet and Tin Plate plant, it was announced today.

A call was issued today for all employes of the mill interested in the organization of such a team to report at the mill playground this evening at 6 o'clock when preliminary steps will be taken toward the election of officers and the selection of players for the trials. Officials of the organization probably will conduct a series of games in order to select the best material.

Mill officials who are backing the movement believe that a first class quintet can be formed from the wealth of material.

With the organization of the team, games will be scheduled with all first class basketball teams in the district, all games being played in theopen. The courts here are the best in the district, and, it is said, the majority of the games will likely be staged here. Arrangements are already under way for games with the American Sheet and Tin Plate Co., quintet of Chester, W. Va.

Players who report for the meeting this evening are requested to appear in their uniforms. A series of games will be staged at the playground following the meet. At this time it is probable that officers of the new organization will consider the advisability of forming a league in order that all mill employes desiring to compete in this sport will be given an opportunity to join one of the clubs.

Unclaimed Mail.

The following names are on the unclaimed mail list at the local postoffice:

W. H. Ambler, John D. Brown, Joseph R. Coakley, Walter Cox, Mason M. Culver, Sam Cold, Bert Callendar, Fred Ewing, Mrs. Belle Flowers, Foster Haught, Dr. W. J. Judy, Abe Long, John La Belle, Mrs. La Glenn, Mrs. Isabelle Leith, Roy Murphy, Mark McCray, K. McDonald, Mrs. Vera Rogennaser, Fille Soffer, Mrs. Mattie Temhill, Joe Walker and Mrs. Nadene Wilson.

PLAYLOT BASKETBALL TEAM WINS GAME

By the score of 29-7, the Wellsville playground basketball team last night defeated an organization of court performers from the East Liverpool playground here last night.

Officials of the local team, in order to place the club on an even basis with the East Liverpool squad, were permitted to substitute several older players in the lineup.

Arrangements were partially completed for a baseball game between teams fro mthe local and East Liverpool playgrounds to be staged here next Wednesday.

Miss Myrtle Gates Hostess.

Miss Myrtle Gates of Washington avenue was hostess to a number of her friends at her home Thursday evening. Music and games were the diversions. At the close of the affair, refreshments were served by the hostess, covers being laid for 25 guests.

M. E. Church Conference.

Members of the congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church will attend the fourth quarterly conference to be held in the auditorium of the church next Wednesday, August 11. Class meeting will be held on Tuesday evening with J. E. Hart as leader.

VOTING PLACES FOR TUESDAY'S PRIMARIES

With the county primary election but three days distant, candidates for the various offices are busily engaged in canvassing the Wellsville district for votes. Nominations for practically all county offices will be made at the polls Tuesday.

With only two candidates in the field, Wellsville's interest in the primaries has not reached the height that it has in other places in the county where a larger number of candidates are contesting. Wellsville has a single candidate for office on the Republican ticket, William Nicholson, who seeks the nomination for sheriff. William Aughinbaugh is not opposed for nomination for state representative on the Democratic ticket. In their last swing around the county, candidates in large number were in the city today.

Voting places for Tuesday have been selected as follows:

First ward—Precinct A, Floto building, Third street; precinct B, Dennis plumbing shop, Main street.

Second ward—Precinct A, Union office, Eighth and Main streets; precinct B, fire station, near Ninth street.

Third ward—Precinct A, Morgan's store, Commerce street, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets; precinct B, Van Dyke building, Main street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets.

Fourth ward—Precinct A, Pullum's pool room, Main street, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets; precinct B, basement Second Presbyterian church, Eighteenth and Maple streets.

Yellow Creek township—West precinct, Township house, Highlandtown road; East precinct, Hardscrable school on Beantown road.

Eastern Star to Entertain.

Officers of the Order of Eastern Star, No. 417, Wellsville chapter, are planning a weiner sizzle and marshmallow toast to be held next Wednesday evening in the creek bottom.

Members of the organization will assemble in the creek bottom at 7 o'clock. Masons and their families have been invited to attend the affair.

VELVET TRIMMING IS NEW NOTE ON GEORGETTE WAIST

Revers and cuffs of panne velvet form a new trimming touch on a few of the exclusive fall blouses. Here is a smart blouse of navy georgette trimmed with navy velvet put on with faggotting. A sash of the velvet and small velvet buttons complete the trimming.

Fire at Pottery.

Becoming ignited from some unknown source, a burning barrel of creosote near a shed of the Ninth street pottery, endangered property there for a short time last night. An alarm was turned in at 7:30 o'clock to the fire department and the blaze was shortly extinguished by chemicals.

Surprise Party.

Mrs. A. J. Allman was tendered a surprise by members of her Sunday school class of the Methodist Protestant church Thursday evening at her home here. Mrs. Allman expects to leave shortly on a vacation.

Elected C. of C. Director.

The board of directors of the Wellsville chamber of commerce was increased by the addition of another member at a meeting held in the chamber rooms here last night. P. J. Calhoun was elected to a seat in the directorate of the organization.

Reports of the meeting of good roads men held in Lisbon July 30 were made by members of the committee from the local chamber who teended.

WELLSVILLE PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McDevitt of Broadway will spend Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace in Salineville.

Harry Kampmann, Main street, has returned from a visit in Cleveland.

Miss Hilda Rushton, Tenth street, is spending a two weeks' vacation with friends and relatives in Zanesville.

Mrs. Frank Smith, Tenth street, has returned from a visit in Pittsburg.

Clarence Williamson, Tenth street, has concluded a two weeks' vacation in Cleveland and Chicago.

Mrs. Al Moore, of Tenth street, has left for a visit in Cleveland. She was accompanied by Miss Margaret Moore of Cleveland, who has been visiting here.

Rev. Dominica Raffone, pastor of the Biblical Mission of Racine, Wis., is visiting friends here. Rev. Raffone was formerly pastor of the Italian church in Twelfth street.

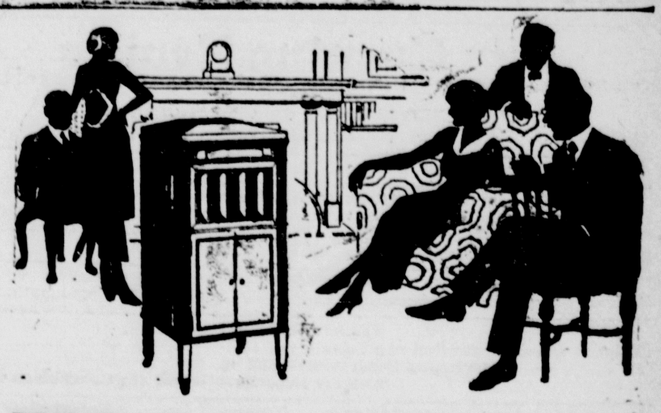

Mr. and Mrs. Perry of Main street will spend the week end with friends in New Castle.

Mrs. Frank Grove of Canton is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. George Culp, Clark avenue.

For a Bilious Attack

If you have bilious attacks give Chamberlain's Tablets a trial. They are excellent. Willis Browning, Pattonsburg, Mo., has this to say of them "About a year ago my wife used a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets and they cured her of a bad bilious attack also of constipation from which she had been suffering for years."

Remember the name—HARVEY C. SMITH, secretary of state, candidate for second term, next Tuesday, not Harry Clay Smith.

SUPPORT THE THREE-MILL SCHOOL LEVY

The electors of the East Liverpool school district, which includes the city proper, Liverpool township and the Southwest precinct of St. Clair township, shall determine by their votes on the proposed three-mill tax levy for school purposes at Tuesday's primaries, whether they are interested in the educational advancement of 5,700 school children.

Dependent upon the result of the school levy vote are two important questions:

1—Whether the nine-month session of school, now in effect, shall continue in force, or whether the board of education, because of financial embarrassment, must shorten the term to eight months or less.

2—Whether the East Liverpool school district shall be entitled to apply for an apportionment of the state reserve fund to be divided among schools which, having exhausted all sources of income, need financial aid in order to remain open.

Believing that parents in the East Liverpool school district are desirous of giving their children the advantages offered by schools maintained on the highest plane of efficiency, and also to cope with the teachers' salary schedule adopted by school authorities in other cities, the board of education here has enacted legislation, making $800 the minimum yearly compensation for instructors. This was necessary not only in order to obtain competent teachers, but also to comply with one of the requirements of the law providing for state aid. And the latter measure also specifies that financial assistance shall not be given until the people of a school district have approved a three-mill tax levy over and above all tax limitations for school purposes.

The board of education, determined to maintain the present standard of the schools which rank among the leaders in the state, has complied with every requirement of the law to obtain additional revenue. The board, however, has now reached the limit of its authority. The next step is up to the electors.

And the situation in the East Liverpool district is not unusual. Practically every school district in Ohio is facing a similar dilemma Electors everywhere in the state Tuesday shall pass judgment upon questions of extra millage to maintain educational institutions.

If East Liverpool voters are interested in providing every advantage for the education of the school children of this district, they will support the three-mill levy at the primaries. Failure to ratify the proposal will prove a hard blow to the schools.

INTERNATIONAL VISITING

Three hundred United States citizens recently toured through part of the province of Ontario, Canada, under the direction of the Michigan Pikes Association. The tour was made in behalf of good highways, and particularly of better international highways through the United States and Canada.

Forty touring cars and 17 trucks carrying camping equipment made up the train in which these travelers journeyed. A coast-to-coast highway leading from San Francisco through Chicago and Detroit into Canada and across to Halifax was one of the big projects discussed as a prophecy of the future. The deep waterways project opening up the Great Lakes to Atlantic shipping was another plan enthusiastically boosted on this trip. An international bridge across the Detroit river was proposed.

All these plans seem to be merely tentative, and while they will no doubt go through some day, at present they are chiefly rosy dreams of the future. There was one immediate result of the tour, however, which seems to have been quite as important as all the international highway plans. That was the increased friendly intercourse between citizens of Canada and the United States. There was every evidence of good will and friendliness, and of mutual sympathy in th whole good roads movement which will mean the finest kind of co-operation when the plans begin to mature.

TOO MANY HOLIDAYS

One of the principal troubles with Europe, says John R. Mott, the Y. M. C. A. leader, is too many holidays. The reconstruction of Poland, he explains, has been seriously hampered, aside from her unfortunate war against Russia, by the fact that there are 90 holidays a year besides Sundays. Roumania, he estimates, has nearly twice as many holidays as that. If the natives celebrate all of them—and that is what the holidays are for—how can they do anything else?

The United States offers an effective contrast. American national holidays can be numbered on the fingers of one hand. Possibly this is the big reason for American superiority over Europe in expenditure of energy and power of production—that is to say, the reason why this nation has done so much and grown so wealthy. The subject does not seem ever to have had the philosophic attention it deserves.

However, any disposition to gloat over American superiority in this matter is discouraged when present tendencies are considered. With the summer vacation grown to a national habit, and large bodies of workmen taking vacations whenever they happen to feel like it, and business and professional men adopting the English "week end" so enthusiastically as to add most of Saturday and Monday to the accustomed Sabbath, we seem to be going the slothful way of the Old World.

"There is plenty of coal and plenty of cars" says a government official. Sure! The coal is in the ground and the cars are standing idle in the freight yard.

Some landlubber suggests that a yacht race ought to be sailed on a saucer-shaped track, like a bicycle race, so people could see it better. Why not on a theatre stage, like the Ben Hur chariot race?

Maybe, after all, the much-abused motor trucks will have to be called on to move that coal from the mines.

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. McINTYRE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Lay late, sweltering in the heat, feeling a great lassitude never felt to nowadays. To my tailor, who received me pretty civilly considering and S. Merwin, the pamphleteer, there and a young son of a Gould. Bought nothing.

Dr. Dorsey has come on the ship from Lisbon and has bid me to come to Madrid but my purse will not permit. Not a little puffed up with my new bathing suit which cost two pounds. On the street, I met Savoy and Brennan, the comick actors, who told me a story, very risque, but it kept me laughing all the day.

To lunch with Ding, the linner, who is annoyed by the odor of gasoline smells on the highway and will take himself off to Iowa, poor fellow. We did eat a jowle of salmon and potato salad, the checks being separate which is sensible. Yet I expected him to settle.

Home where I got out my white flannels to be furbished and found them full of holes, eaten by moths. Started reading "Miss Lulu Bett," a fine tayle of the small town, much like where I lived. And read too some philosophy by E. Howe, of Kansas, but find him much too cynical these days.

Anon to dinner, very merry, talking and dancing and to a show where there were many girls but few clothes and tiresome withal. Then with my wife, poor wretch, in a Victoria thru the park and at a lonesome spot we stopped and rested and soon there was a clatter of a noise, the dolt of a driver having fallen asleep and toppled from his seat but unhurt. And so home and to bed.

Down at the Players a story is going the rounds concerning a well known literary light who recently returned from Paris. Tiring of prohibition in his native land he began lapping up cocktails from the moment the liner got outside the three-mile limit.

In Paris he got a new start and finally his wife decided on stern measures. When he was in the bath, she hid all of his trousers. Then she went out shopping. The writer secured a long coat that came to his ankles and drove to Maxim's in a fiacre.

He had a few drinks and fell into easy conversation with a man and woman at a nearby table. He confided his martial woes and after a few more drinks they were so sympathetic that he was taken to the gentleman's home where a pair of trousers were supplied and then they returned to Maxim's to celebrate.

Through false imagining or real evidence, the Good Samaritan, got the idea that the American was casting sheeps eyes at his inamorita. Finally he spoke his mind heatedly. The writer arose with great dignity. He was amazed that his honor should be so impugned. He recounted his ancestory, his literary triumphs, winding up with an eulogy of his distant country. Then he went into a wash-room, returned and hurled the trousers down on the table and with the long coat flapping about his legs departed.

A group of kiddies scampering through a hotel lobby clad in only Fiji Island loin cloths has been sufficient to excite even New York these days. The four children arrived at the Majestic from Paris, where they were born, with their mother Mrs. Paul Leforgue, wife of a millionaire Paris banker. The children were sickly. The loin cloth idea and open air made them husky.

About Digestion.

Digestion begins in the mouth. The food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated before it is swallowed. When this is habitually neglected stomach trouble is almost sure to follow. If you now have indigestion eat no beef or veal and sparingly of other meats, masticate your food thoroughly and you may recover without taking any medicine. If your bowels are constipated take Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only cause a gentle movement of the bowels, but aid digestion and strengthen the stomach.

Jefferson, Ashtabula County, Ohio—Candidate for the

at the Republican Primaries, respectfully solicits consideration and votes, and says:

He is generally and strongly supported by the bench and bar throughout the district, as may be verified by inquiry of members thereof.

The only other candidate has already had one appointment and two elections to this court, covering a period of more then twelve years.

The northern end of the district has always heretofore been conceded one members of this court, and is now without resident representation, or candidate other than Judge Roberts.

The following shows the character of his service on the Common Pleas bench:

"This is to certify that since Hon. J. W. Roberts became judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Ashtabula County, August 3rd, 1905, 8281 civil cases have been disposed of in that court.

Of these cases, 138 so heard and disposed of by Judge Roberts have been taken to the Circuit Court or Court of Appeals in error proceedings, or on appeal, and determined therein, or later in the Supreme Court, and of which number 43 have been reversed.

In other words, only one case out of each 191 in the Court of Common Pleas has been changed by higher courts.

SUPPORT THE THREE-MILL SCHOOL LEVY

The electors of the East Liverpool school district, which includes the city proper, Liverpool township and the Southwest precinct of St. Clair township, shall determine by their votes on the proposed three-mill tax levy for school purposes at Tuesday's primaries whether they are interested in the educational advancement of 5,700 school children.

Dependent upon the result of the school levy vote are two important questions:

1—Whether the nine-month session of school, now in effect, shall continue in force, or whether the board of education, because of financial embarrassment, must shorten the term to eight months or less.

2—Whether the East Liverpool school district shall be entitled to apply for an apportionment of the state reserve fund to be divided among schools which, having exhausted all sources of income, need financial aid in order to remain open.

Believing that parents in the East Liverpool school district are desirous of giving their children the advantages offered by schools maintained on the highest plane of efficiency, and also to cope with the teachers' salary schedule adopted by school authorities in other cities, the board of education here has enacted legislation, making $800 the minimum yearly compensation for instructors. This was necessary not only in order to obtain competent teachers, but also to comply with one of the requirements of the law providing for state aid. And the latter measure also specifies that financial assistance shall not be given until the people of a school district have approved a three-mill tax levy over and above all tax limitations for school purposes.

The board of education, determined to maintain the present standard of the schools which rank among the leaders in the state, has complied with every requirement of the law to obtain additional revenue. The board, however, has now reached the limit of its authority. The next step is up to the electors.

And the situation in the East Liverpool district is not unusual. Practically every school district in Ohio is facing a similar dilemma Electors everywhere in the state Tuesday shall pass judgment upon questions of extra millage to maintain educational institutions.

If East Liverpool voters are interested in providing every advantage for the education of the school children of this district, they will support the three-mill levy at the primaries. Failure to ratify the proposal will prove a hard blow to the schools.

INTERNATIONAL VISITING

Three hundred United States citizens recently toured through part of the province of Ontario, Canada, under the direction of the Michigan Pikes Association. The tour was made in behalf of good highways, and particularly of better international highways through the United States and Canada.

Forty touring cars and 17 trucks carrying camping equipment made up the train in which these travelers journeyed. A coast-to-coast highway leading from San Francisco through Chicago and Detroit into Canada and across to Halifax was one of the big projects discussed as a prophecy of the future. The deep waterways project opening up the Great Lakes to Atlantic shipping was another plan enthusiastically boosted on this trip. An international bridge across the Detroit river was proposed.

All these plans seem to be merely tentative, and while they will no doubt go through some day, at present they are chiefly rosy dreams of the future. There was one immediate result of the tour, however, which seems to have been quite as important as all the international highway plans. That was the increased friendly intercourse between citizens of Canada and the United States. There was every evidence of good will and friendliness, and of mutual sympathy in th whole good roads movement which will mean the finest kind of co-operation when the plans begin to mature.

TOO MANY HOLIDAYS

One of the principal troubles with Europe, says John R. Mott, the Y. M. C. A. leader, is too many holidays. The reconstruction of Poland, he explains, has been seriously hampered, aside from her unfortunate war against Russia, by the fact that there are 90 holidays a year besides Sundays. Roumania, he estimates, has nearly twice as many holidays as that. If the natives celebrate all of them—and that is what the holidays are for—how can they do anything else?

The United States offers an effective contrast. American national holidays can be numbered on the fingers of one hand. Possibly this is the big reason for American superiority over Europe in expenditure of energy and power of production—that is to say, the reason why this nation has done so much and grown so wealthy. The subject does not seem ever to have had the philosophic attention it deserves.

However, any disposition to gloat over American superiority in this matter is discouraged when present tendencies are considered. With the summer vacation grown to a national habit, and large bodies of workmen taking vacations whenever they happen to feel like it, and business and professional men adopting the English "week end" so enthusiastically as to add most of Saturday and Monday to the accustomed Sabbath, we seem to be going the slothful way of the Old World.

"There is plenty of coal and plenty of cars" says a government official. Sure! The coal is in the ground and the cars are standing idle in the freight yard.

Some landlubber suggests that a yacht race ought to be sailed on a saucer-shaped track, like a bicycle race, so people could see it better. Why not on a theatre stage, like the Ben Hur chariot race?

Maybe, after all, the much-abused motor trucks will have to be called on to move that coal from the mines.

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. McINTYRE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Lay late, sweltering in the heat, feeling a great lassitude never felt to nowadays. To my tailor, who received me pretty civilly considering and S. Merwin, the pamphleteer, there and a young son of a Gould. Bought nothing.

Dr. Dorsey has come on the ship from Lisbon and has bid me to come to Madrid but my purse will not permit. Not a little puffed up with my new bathing suit which cost two pounds. On the street, I met Savoy and Brennan, the comick actors, who told me a story, very risque, but it kept me laughing all the day.

To lunch with Ding, the linner, who is annoyed by the odor of gasoline smells on the highway and will take himself off to Iowa, poor fellow. We did eat a jowle of salmon and potato salad, the checks being separate which is sensible. Yet I expected him to settle.

Home where I got out my white flannels to be furbished and found them full of holes, eaten by moths. Started reading "Miss Lulu Bett," a fine tayle of the small town, much like where I lived. And read too some philosophy by E. Howe, of Kansas, but find him much too cynical these days.

Anon to dinner, very merry, talking and dancing and to a show where there were many girls but few clothes and tiresome withal. Then with my wife, poor wretch, in a Victoria thru the park and at a lonesome spot we stopped and rested and soon there was a clatter of a noise, the dolt of a driver having fallen asleep and toppled from his seat but unhurt. And so home and to bed.

Down at the Players a story is going the rounds concerning a well known literary light who recently returned from Paris. Tiring of prohibition in his native land he began lapping up cocktails from the moment the liner got outside the three-mile limit.

In Paris he got a new start and finally his wife decided on stern measures. When he was in the bath, she hid all of his trousers. Then she went out shopping. The writer secured a long coat that came to his ankles and drove to Maxim's in a fiacre.

He had a few drinks and fell into easy conversation with a man and woman at a nearby table. He confided his martial woes and after a few more drinks they were so sympathetic that he was taken to the gentleman's home where a pair of trousers were supplied and then they returned to Maxim's to celebrate.

Through false imagining or real evidence, the Good Samaritan, got the idea that the American was casting sheeps eyes at his inamorita. Finally he spoke his mind heatedly. The writer arose with great dignity. He was amazed that his honor should be so impugned. He recounted his ancestory, his literary triumphs, winding up with an eulogy of his distant country. Then he went into a wash-room, returned and hurled the trousers down on the table and with the long coat flapping about his legs departed.

A group of kiddies scampering through a hotel lobby clad in only Fiji Island loin cloths has been sufficient to excite even New York these days. The four children arrived at the Majestic from Paris, where they were born, with their mother Mrs. Paul Leforgue, wife of a millionaire Paris banker. The children were sickly. The loin cloth idea and open air made them husky.

About Digestion.

Digestion begins in the mouth. The food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated before it is swallowed. When this is habitually neglected stomach trouble is almost sure to follow. If you now have indigestion eat no beef or veal and sparingly of other meats, masticate your food thoroughly and you may recover without taking any medicine. If your bowels are constipated take Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only cause a gentle movement of the bowels, but aid digestion and strengthen the stomach.

at the Republican Primaries, respectfully solicits consideration and votes, and says:

He is generally and strongly supported by the bench and bar throughout the district, as may be verified by inquiry of members thereof.

The only other candidate has already had one appointment and two elections to this court, covering a period of more then twelve years.

The northern end of the district has always heretofore been conceded one members of this court, and is now without resident representation, or candidate other than Judge Roberts.

The following shows the character of his service on the Common Pleas bench:

"This is to certify that since Hon. J. W. Roberts became judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Ashtabula County, August 3rd, 1905, 8281 civil cases have been disposed of in that court.

Of these cases, 138 so heard and disposed of by Judge Roberts have been taken to the Circuit Court or Court of Appeals in error proceedings, or on appeal, and determined therein, or later in the Supreme Court, and of which number 43 have been reversed.

In other words, only one case out of each 191 in the Court of Common Pleas has been changed by higher courts.

Celebrates Birthday Anniversary

Twenty-five little folks were entertained at the home of Mrs. Earl Edwards in West Third street from 3 to 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, as a celebration marking the birthday anniversaries of her two children, Billy and Amanda Marie. The little tots spent the afternoon playing out-door games, with music as a diversion.

A color scheme of pink and white was carried out by the use of ribbons and summer flowers in the decorations and appointments at the course luncheon served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. W. Beane and daughter, Miss Alice Beane. Two large birthday cakes, adorned with six candles for little Billy, and one with four candles for Amanda Marie graced the table at which small kewpies were given as favors.

Rev. John Scott Visiting Here

Rev. John Scott, a former East Liverpool man, who for the past year has been preaching in Oklahoma, is spending a short time with home folks and will occupy the pulpit of the Fsrit Church of Christ at both morning and evening services Sunday.

Rev. Scott will take "Christianity, a Universal Religion" for his text at the morning services, and in the evening will deliver a sermon on "Christian Leaders."

Entertained Utopia Club

The members of the Utopia Club were entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. R. B. Stevenson at her Locust Valley home along the Y. and O. The guests were met at the car line and conveyed to the home in a hay-wagon filled with hay.

Covers were laid for twenty guests at the chicken noodle dinner, by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Forrest Bennett. Summer flowers were used in the appointments. The afternoon was spent playing games on the lawn. Guests of the club included Mrs. R. Allen of Butler who is the house guest of Mrs. R. A. Wallover, Smith's Ferry; Mrs. R. J. Lydell of Youngstown, and Misses Grace Shawke and Grace Nagel of this city.

The club will be entertained Friday afternoon, August 13, at the home of Mrs. Schmelzenbach, Lincoln Highway. The ladies will leave the Diamond at 2 o'clock and go by auto bus.

DAVIDSON PORCELAIN PLANT UNDER ROOF

Considerable progress is being made on the new plant of the Davidson Porcelain company, being erected in the west end of Chester. The contractors have placed the structure under roof and bricklayers are now engaged in the building of the kilns. Two of the three funnel type kilns, which the company plans to use, have about been completed and the others will be finished by the middle of next week.

The construction of the plant has been considerably handicaped by the shortage of materials. However, indications are that the factory will be completed and ready for operation by the middle of September.

The new concern when in operation will offer employment to approximately 75 persons, most of whom will be skilled potters.

RAILROAD DETECTIVES ARREST NEWELL LAD

For the alleged complicity in placing an obstruction across the Panhandle railroad tracks near the Finley Brothers' lumber plant several days ago, Delbert Pickens, 17, of Newell, was taken into charge by railroad detectives, Friday and given a preliminary hearing before Justice A. G. Allison. The lad disclaimed any knowledge of the affair and was held for a hearing next Tuesday evening.

One of a party of several young boys, residing in the lower end of Chester, who were reprimanded by Mayor Mayhew, some time ago for interferring with workmen engaged in the construction of the new pottery of the Davidson Porcelain company, it is said, claims young Pickens threw several locust posts across the railroad tracks. He will appear as the chief witness against the Newell lad.

The obstruction on the track is said to have been discovered just a few minutes before a passenger train was due.

CHESTER ATHLETICS WIN LISTLESS GAME

In one of the most listless games played here this season, the Chester Athletics defeated the Newell Grays Friday evening by the score of 12 to 4.

Masters, Finley, McCune, H. Hoy and B. Bennett were the stars of the game, their hitting being a feature. Master, twirling for the visitors, was hit for nine safeties, while Enright, on the mound for Chester, allowed the Newell team 12 hits. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Newell	12	12	3
Chester	4	9	3

Batteries — aMsters and McCune; Enright and Kell.

BEAVER FALLS TEAM AND CORD TIRES MEET

The Chester Cord Tire team will cross bats with the fast Beaver Falls Independents at Rock Springs park at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Beaver Falls club has a fast aggregation and thus far this season have not been beaten by any of the teams in this district, although they have participated in a number of contests.

Sunday, the locals go to Dillonvale, Jefferson county, where they will play the team of that place. A large number of local fans will make the trip with the team.

The Oakland A. C. club of East Liverpool fell victims to the Cord Tires Thursday evening by the score of 7 to 0.

Honor Miss Mabel Arner.

Complimentary to Miss Mabel Arner of Tarentum, Pa., who is a guest at the home of her uncle, G. A. Arner of Carolina avenue, the "Lucky Thirteen club," an organization of Chester young ladies, entertained at a weiner sizzle Friday evening near the Asbury chapel, just back of Chester.

The party traveled to and from the scene of the affair in automobiles. More than 25 young people were participants in the outing.

REWARD FOR MISSING SAILOR IS CANCELLED

Notice of the cancellation of a reward of $50 for the arrest and return of James William Mackall, son of James Mackall Sr. of lower Chester, who is a seaman, second class, on the U. S. S. Arizona, was received in Chester Saturday morning.

Mackall, who has been in the navy for several years, left the ship without permission and several days ago the local authorities were asked to arrest him if he appeared at his home here.

The notice, however, came too late and when an investigation was made it was learned that Mackall had left Chester and returned to duty. The notice received here this morning stated that the young man had returned aboard the ship on August 3, after having been gone since July 25.

BEAVER FALLS CLUB PICNIC HERE MONDAY

Several thousand visitors are expected to attend the annual outing of the Nonpareil club, of East Liverpool, a colored organization, to be held at Rock Springs park, next Monday. Visitors will be present from East Liverpool, Steubenville, Midland, Wellsville and the Beaver Valley.

The picnic will be featured by a program of athletic events, including a marathon race which will start in th Diamond, East Liverpool at 10 a.m., and finish at the park entrance. Already several contestahts have entered the race. There will be a baseball game during the afternoon.

The dancing pavilion will be open afternoon and evening with the Famous Players' Orchestra in charge of the music. The bathing pavilion and merry-go-round will also be at the disposal of the visitors throughout the day.

Bank Directors' Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the First National bank was held Friday afternoon.

BERT BROWN MEMBER OF RECEPTION COMMITTEE

Attorney Bert Brown of New Cumberland, chairman of the Hancock county Republican executive committee, has been named a member of the reception committee in connection with the Republican state convention which will be held in Wheeling on Thursday, August 12. Mr. Brown is one of Hancock county's delegates to the state gathering.

Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican presidential nominee, has declined the invitation of the Republican state executive committee to attend the meeting, stating that he intends to continue his front porch campaign until October at least and will not leave Marion for political purposes before that date.

The state convention will endorse the candidacies of Harding and Coolidge.

Delegates to Report.

Representatives of the Young People's society of the First United Presbyterian church, who attended the recent national convention held at Pittsburg, will make their reports at the regular Sunday evening service tomorrow. Misses Olive John and Bertha Richmond were the delegates from the local society. Rev. Thomas Newcombe also was in attendance.

Cottage Prayer Meetings

The first of the series of cottage prayer meetings, to be conducted throughout the remainder of this month, preparatory to the Bob Jones revival campaign to be held in East Liverpool, September 5-October 10, will be held in Chester next Tuesday evening. These prayer services will be conducted in 16 different districts of the city. Another series of similar meetings will be held Friday evening.

Chester Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leonard of Pawtucket, R. I., who have been visiting here for the last month, left for their home Friday. They will make a stop at Buffalo before proceeding home.

Thomas E. Whitehill of the Hookstown district was transacting business in Chester Friday.

Rev. and Mrs. Grant Ward of Indiana avenue, motored to Sebring Saturday morning. They plan to return home late this evening.

BY M. K. ZIMERMAN

One does not to have put the car of Memory in reverse and travel back a few years to view a Scene of Life, so long as that Scene remains clear to the mind. But to throw this car into high and plunge into the future the driver must have that invisible companion Foresight with him.

Such a driver was Senator John Sherman. He was a staunch protectionist. As far back as June 23, 1887, when Mr. Sherman visited East Liverpool his companion Foresight was with him.

He looked into the future, perhaps little believing that his thoughts at that time would live on and his gospel of protection to American industries be referred to in the years that were to come.

Mr. Sherman believed that every American industry should receive every protection it was possible for the American Government to give.

He lived the doctrine he preached.

What Mr. Sherman said in East Liverpool 33 years ago holds good today, and perhaps the hour is not long distant when new life will be given his utterances.

The address Mr. Sherman made in East Liverpool favoring a protective tariff follows:

"Several years ago I came among you, but I was not then as familiar with the great industry that has given you wealth and a name throughout the land as well as abroad as I am now. I believe that the manufacturing of pottery or chinaware first assumed large proportions here in 1861 or 1862 but all that time it met with discouragements and did not prosper.

"At that time all, or nearly all, the white china used in this country was imported from England. The English manufacturers hearing of your efforts and your success through their representatives, made strenuous efforts to keep off a duty on their goods. You came to Congress and asked that a reasonable duty be placed upon imported whiteware and decorated china that you might carry on successfully and profitably your industry. It was there that I first learned of the great industry you were pursuing.

"At that time this business was scarcely known in the United States. We had here in this locality all the clay and all the materials for manufacturing their goods, and you had the money and the pluck and ability to utilize them. But with English competition and cheap labor in that country you could not succeed.

"All the people in the west used common brown pottery because they could not afford to pay the high price asked for imported ware. I have eaten my meals many a time from the old brown plates or from the tin ware in the homes of good and honest men who could not afford to buy the English China. Owing to the encouragement given to the tariff after the war, this industry grew and you prospered.

"I then visited your town and your potteries and found you had been going ahead and were manufacturing superior ware, and in 1883, when an attempt was made to break down the tariff on these goods, with your true friend Major McKinley, and others, we stood by you and the tariff was continued.

"A gentleman said to me East Liverpool cannot compete with England, and the attempts of the potteries in that place will be futile, and argued that it was better to break down the tariff and depend upon England.....The result of the protection given you has driven English goods from our market and it has brought English labor in our midst, skilled workmen who are making finer and better goods than England can make and selling them cheaper.

"I was astonished today when I saw the kind and class of goods you are making, and have never seen any decorated ware more beautiful or more delicate in Europe.

"The time is not far distant when the works of art in china from East Liverpool will sell as high and be in as great demand as the finest goods from Europe.

"Your country here, fellow citizens, is beautiful; your hills are grand and buried under you by the magic wand of the enchanter is that marvelous discovery, natural gas, which by the light of a friction match is even now illumining the world, and will work revolutions in your potteries and in all industries of the United States.

"You have coal or gas, railroad, a river and protection. Go on in good work, and East Liverpool will soon rival the old Liverpool of England."

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

THE first appeal of our five-passenger "Glenbrook" model is, quite properly, its exquisite beauty and distinctiveness. To merely look at the car is a pleasing experience.

The second appeal develops upon acquaintance with one of the most remarkable power plants in the entire field of six cylinder engineering. Thus admiration is supplemented by profound respect and both appeals merge into Pride of Ownership.

This new Paige motor is an unusual achievement. It is the result of more than three years of patient research and experiment. It is actually and literally a product of our war time experience.

Furthermore this power plant is an altogether distinctive product—conceived by our own engineers and built in our own plants by our own workmen. It represents in fullest measure all that the Paige nameplate implies.

DAVIDSON PORCELAIN PLANT UNDER ROOF

Considerable progress is being made on the new plant of the Davidson Porcelain company, being erected in the west end of Chester. The contractors have placed the structure under roof and bricklayers are now engaged in the building of the kilns. Two of the three funnel type kilns, which the company plans to use, have about been completed and the others will be finished by the middle of next week.

The construction of the plant has been considerably handicaped by the shortage of materials. However, indications are that the factory will be completed and ready for operation by the middle of September.

The new concern when in operation will offer employment to approximately 75 persons, most of whom will be skilled potters.

RAILROAD DETECTIVES ARREST NEWELL LAD

For the alleged complicity in placing an obstruction across the Panhandle railroad tracks near the Finley Brothers' lumber plant several days ago, Delbert Pickens, 17, of Newell, was taken into charge by railroad detectives, Friday and given a preliminary hearing before Justice A. G. Allison. The lad disclaimed any knowledge of the affair and was held for a hearing next Tuesday evening.

One of a party of several young boys, residing in the lower end of Chester, who were reprimanded by Mayor Mayhew, some time ago for interferring with workmen engaged in the construction of the new pottery of the Davidson Porcelain company, it is said, claims young Pickens threw several locust posts across the railroad tracks. He will appear as the chief witness against the Newell lad.

The obstruction on the track is said to have been discovered just a few minutes before a passenger train was due.

CHESTER ATHLETICS WIN LISTLESS GAME

In one of the most listless games played here this season, the Chester Athletics defeated the Newell Grays Friday evening by the score of 12 to 4.

Masters, Finley, McCune, H. Hoy and B. Bennett were the stars of the game, their hitting being a feature. Master, twirling for the visitors, was hit for nine safeties, while Enright, on the mound for Chester, allowed the Newell team 12 hits. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Newell	12	12	3
Chester	4	9	3

Batteries — aMsters and McCune; Enright and Kell.

BEAVER FALLS TEAM AND CORD TIRES MEET

The Chester Cord Tire team will cross bats with the fast Beaver Falls Independents at Rock Springs park at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Beaver Falls club has a fast aggregation and thus far this season have not been beaten by any of the teams in this district, although they have participated in a number of contests.

Sunday, the locals go to Dillonvale, Jefferson county, where they will play the team of that place. A large number of local fans will make the trip with the team.

The Oakland A. C. club of East Liverpool fell victims to the Cord Tires Thursday evening by the score of 7 to 0.

Honor Miss Mabel Arner.

Complimentary to Miss Mabel Arner of Tarentum, Pa., who is a guest at the home of her uncle, G. A. Arner of Carolina avenue, the "Lucky Thirteen club," an organization of Chester young ladies, entertained at a weiner sizzle Friday evening near the Asbury chapel, just back of Chester.

The party traveled to and from the scene of the affair in automobiles. More than 25 young people were participants in the outing.

REWARD FOR MISSING SAILOR IS CANCELLED

Notice of the cancellation of a reward of $50 for the arrest and return of James William Mackall, son of James Mackall Sr. of lower Chester, who is a seaman, second class, on the U. S. S. Arizona, was received in Chester Saturday morning.

Mackall, who has been in the navy for several years, left the ship without permission and several days ago the local authorities were asked to arrest him if he appeared at his home here.

The notice, however, came too late and when an investigation was made it was learned that Mackall had left Chester and returned to duty. The notice received here this morning stated that the young man had returned aboard the ship on August 3, after having been gone since July 25.

BEAVER FALLS CLUB PICNIC HERE MONDAY

Several thousand visitors are expected to attend the annual outing of the Nonpareil club, of East Liverpool, a colored organization, to be held at Rock Springs park, next Monday. Visitors will be present from East Liverpool, Steubenville, Midland, Wellsville and the Beaver Valley.

The picnic will be featured by a program of athletic events, including a marathon race which will start in th Diamond, East Liverpool at 10 a.m., and finish at the park entrance. Already several contestahts have entered the race. There will be a baseball game during the afternoon.

The dancing pavilion will be open afternoon and evening with the Famous Players' Orchestra in charge of the music. The bathing pavilion and merry-go-round will also be at the disposal of the visitors throughout the day.

BERT BROWN MEMBER OF RECEPTION COMMITTEE

Attorney Bert Brown of New Cumberland, chairman of the Hancock county Republican executive committee, has been named a member of the reception committee in connection with the Republican state convention which will be held in Wheeling on Thursday, August 12. Mr. Brown is one of Hancock county's delegates to the state gathering.

Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican presidential nominee, has declined the invitation of the Republican state executive committee to attend the meeting, stating that he intends to continue his front porch campaign until October at least and will not leave Marion for political purposes before that date.

The state convention will endorse the candidacies of Harding and Coolidge.

Delegates to Report.

Representatives of the Young People's society of the First United Presbyterian church, who attended the recent national convention held at Pittsburg, will make their reports at the regular Sunday evening service tomorrow. Misses Olive John and Bertha Richmond were the delegates from the local society. Rev. Thomas Newcombe also was in attendance.

Cottage Prayer Meetings

The first of the series of cottage prayer meetings, to be conducted throughout the remainder of this month, preparatory to the Bob Jones revival campaign to be held in East Liverpool, September 5-October 10, will be held in Chester next Tuesday evening. These prayer services will be conducted in 16 different districts of the city. Another series of similar meetings will be held Friday evening.

LIST OF DELEGATES TO G. O. P. SESSION

With the exception of Poe district, which has not yet named its one delegate, the personnel of Hancock county's delegation to the state Republican convention, to be held in Wheeling on August 12, is complete.

Here is a list of the delegates who have been named by Clay, Butler and Grant districts:

Clay—R. M. Brown and Armour S. Cooper, New Cumberland.

Butler — Emlyn Richards, L. A. Brown and Joseph Stubert, Weirton.

Grant—R. B. Rutledge A. G. Allison, James A. Johnston, G. A. Arner, W. W. Ingram and O. C. Reynolds, Chester; R. C. Newell, Newell, and J. Ness Porter, Kenilworth.

The same delegates will represent Grant and Butler districts at the judicial district convention to be held in Moundsville, August 10, although the Republicans of Clay district selected J. A. McKenzie and F. L. Bradley as their representatives at this meeting.

LODGE TO ENTERTAIN AT GROUNDHOG SUPPER

Members of Clark lodge No. 447, I. O. O. F., of Newell, will entertain their wives and members of their families at a groundhog supper in the Aaron building, Friday evening of next week.

The supper will be prepared and served by members of the Rebekahs, the ladies' auxiliary. Three teams, of five members each, have agreed to furnish the groundhogs for the feed and will spend next Thursday in search for the game.

The feed will consist of fried groundhog, mashed potatoes, gravy, new peas, salad, rolls, coffee, ice cream and cake.

SEEK INSURANCE CARRIED BY SLAIN VETERAN

Relatives of a former Hancock county Greek, who was killed while fighting with the American forces in France, have written to Miss Florence Moss, county Red Cross secretary, asking her to assist them in collecting insurance carried by their ex-soldier son.

The Greek, John H. Mountafes, who worked in Weirton prior to the war, was not naturalized until after he donned the uniform of Uncle Sam. He took out a $10,000 government insurance policy. The war department later listed the man as "killed in action," but for some reason the insurance payments were never started.

The young man listed his cousin as beneficiary in his insurance, but the deceased's parents have put in a claim, asserting that they are the rightful heirs to the insurance.

STEPPED UPON NAIL; BLOOD POISONING FEARED

Physicians today are watching for symptoms of blood-poisoning in the case of Mrs. Moses Hilton, of the Orchard addition, Newell, who sustained a painful injury Thursday afternoon when she stepped upon a rusty nail.

Mrs. Hilton, who is preparing to move into a new home in the west end of town, was engaged in cleaning the interior of the house prior to moving in the household furniture. Failing to notice a nail protruding through a small piece of a board which had been carelessly dropped, Mrs. Hilton stepped upon the board, the nail running far into her foot.

The nail was quickly removed. She was taken to her home in an automobile and later Dr. H. A. Turk summoned. The wound was cauterized to prevent further infection.

RESOLUTION NUMBER 213

A Resolution declaring it necessary to improve Sewer District Number One, by constructing therein a six (6) inch sanitary sewer, of hard-burned vitrified sewer pipe on Oak street, between Bank street, and a point in front of lot Number 1700, and on Carson alley, from Oak street to Laura street, to connect with the sanitary sewer on Bank street.

Be it resolved by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio, (three-fourths of all the members thereof concurring):

Section 1. That it is necessary to improve sewer district Number One, by constructing therein a six (6) inch sanitary sewer, of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe, on Oak street, between Bank street and a point in front of lot Number 1700, and on Carson Alley, from Oak street, to Laura street, to connect with the sanitary sewer on Bank street, and doing everything else necessary and essential to make and complete said improvement in accordance with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles, heretofore prepared by the City Engineer, and hereinafter referred to.

Section 2. That the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of said improvement heretofore prepared by the City Engineer, and now on file in the office of the Director of Public Service on the third floor of the City Hall of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio where the same are open for public inspection, be, and the same are hereby approved.

Section 3. That the whole cost of said improvement, less one-fiftieth thereof, shall be assessed by the foot frontage upon the following described lands, and lots, to-wit: All lots and lands bounding and abutting upon said proposed improvement which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specially benefited by said improvement; and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of the preliminary and other surveys and the expense of printing and publishing the notices resolutions and ordinances, required, and the serving of said notices and the cost of construction, together with interest on bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments and all other necessary expenditures.

Section 4. That the assessments to be levied shall be paid in five annual installments with interest on deferred payments at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, provided that the owner of any property assessed may at his option pay such assessment in cash within 30 days, from and after the passage of the assessing ordinance, in which case said assessment shall not include any item of interest upon bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments and all other necessary expenditures.

Section 5. That bonds of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments and in an amount equal thereto.

Section 6. That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement not specially assessed, together with the cost of any real estate or interes herein purchased or appropriated, and the cost and expenses of any appropriation proceedings therefor, and the damages awarded any owner of adjoining lands and interest thereon, and the costs and expenses of any such award, shall be paid out of a fund to be provided by the issuance of bonds in the manner provided by law.

Section 7. That this resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed this 26th day of July, 1920.

LODGE TO ENTERTAIN AT GROUNDHOG SUPPER

Members of Clark lodge No. 447, I. O. O. F., of Newell, will entertain their wives and members of their families at a groundhog supper in the Aaron building, Friday evening of next week.

The supper will be prepared and served by members of the Rebekahs, the ladies' auxiliary. Three teams, of five members each, have agreed to furnish the groundhogs for the feed and will spend next Thursday in search for the game.

The feed will consist of fried groundhog, mashed potatoes, gravy, new peas, salad, rolls, coffee, ice cream and cake.

SEEK INSURANCE CARRIED BY SLAIN VETERAN

Relatives of a former Hancock county Greek, who was killed while fighting with the American forces in France, have written to Miss Florence Moss, county Red Cross secretary, asking her to assist them in collecting insurance carried by their ex-soldier son.

The Greek, John H. Mountafes, who worked in Weirton prior to the war, was not naturalized until after he donned the uniform of Uncle Sam. He took out a $10,000 government insurance policy. The war department later listed the man as "killed in action," but for some reason the insurance payments were never started.

The young man listed his cousin as beneficiary in his insurance, but the deceased's parents have put in a claim, asserting that they are the rightful heirs to the insurance.

STEPPED UPON NAIL; BLOOD POISONING FEARED

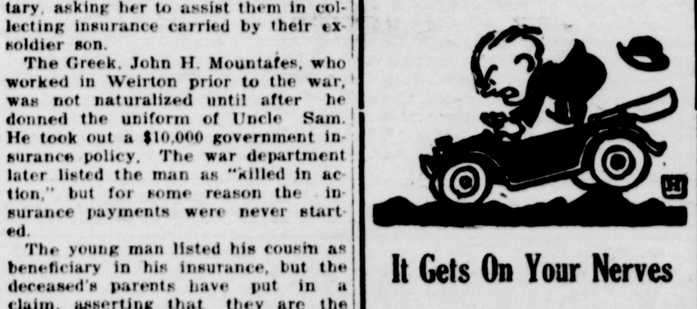

Physicians today are watching for symptoms of blood-poisoning in the case of Mrs. Moses Hilton, of the Orchard addition, Newell, who sustained a painful injury Thursday afternoon when she stepped upon a rusty nail.

Mrs. Hilton, who is preparing to move into a new home in the west end of town, was engaged in cleaning the interior of the house prior to moving in the household furniture. Failing to notice a nail protruding through a small piece of a board which had been carelessly dropped, Mrs. Hilton stepped upon the board, the nail running far into her foot.

The nail was quickly removed. She was taken to her home in an automobile and later Dr. H. A. Turk summoned. The wound was cauterized to prevent further infection.

INDIES FACING REAL STRUGGLE

Ohio Valley Star's First Appearance Here for Several Years—Ray Pollock Will Likely Start for Locals.

Big "Mickey" McBride, who has flattened more baseballs and caused more heartaches to local clubs than any one individual player, and who has become a fixtures in Ohio valley baseball circles in recent years, will head the Bridgewater (Pa.) club that plays the Independents at West End park Sunday afternoon. McBride is one of the best known ball players in the valley. His performances on East Liverpool lots in past years have stamped him as one of the fastest semi-professional players who ever appeared here. He can easily hold rank with Mahl Myers, now in the Virginia league; "Pick" Nalley of Toronto, now in the South Atlantic league, and the Grimes brothers, Roy and Ray, members of the Eastern association, all of whom have figured in box scores here at one time or another in the last several years.

Accompanying McBride as a dozen or so of tossers of first-class semi-professional caliber from Beaver county. The Bridgewater club lays claim to no great distinction other than their record. They have not been defeated this season and have victories over Beaver Falls and Ambridge "Our Boys." They have not played the Ambridge semi-professional club yet. According to McBride, who was here several days ago, the Bridgewater club is now arranging a series with the Townsends, another good aggregation. This will furnish a real test of their ability.

Ray Pollock will likely be picked for slab work, according to Manager Shel Pyle. Bill Merchant will undoubtedly be stationed on the initial cushion. Both Pollock and Merchant were offered good berths with the Clarksburg (W. Va.) independent club, through the medium of Barney Bricelin, who, in addition to handling one of the Clarksburg city league clubs, is an umpire for the representative aggregation. With the major part of the season gone, however, both lads decided to stick to their jobs here and finish out the schedule with the Independents.

Sunday's game will start at 3:15, the regular time.

Croquet developed from a French game of the 13th century.

Molbroughs Leave Field In Seventh Winning With Score Tied.

Darkness last night ended the game between the Liberty A. C. and the Molbrough A. C. of Wellsville, staged at West End park. The score was tied, 4-4, when the colored tossers left the field.

Manager Shel Pyle said today that he will claim a forfeited game in spite of the fact that the score ended 4-4. The situation in the seventh inning when the game was brought to an abrupt end was as follows: The score stood 4-3 in favor of the colored lads when the locals came to bat in their half of the inning, after giving the Molbroughs their half. A hit and an error brought across the tieing run for the Libertys. Windland went to bat and poled a line drive over second. With Windland on base and one man out the heavy end of the Liberty batting order coming to bat, the Molbroughs left the field, declaring that it was too dark to play. As a result of this action Manager Pyle claims a victory, inasmuch as two outs were necessary to officially bring the game to a close.

IS TRIS SPEAKER GOING TO WIN WHERE OTHERS FAILED?

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Is Tris Speaker, fiery Texan, going to ride to victory in the American league free for all, the Cleveland entry which has gone lame at the stretch year after year?

Anyone who tries to pick a winner in the aforesaid A. L. scramble right now is dippy. The Yanks, the White Sox, by a not unusual spurt, can overhaul and pass the Indians, but right now the Indians are out in front and holding the lead they have kept the greater part of the summer.

As I look at it, if the Indians cop, Tris Speaker will be the man who will have turned the trick. Recall the seasons preceding Speaker's arrival on April 12th, 1916. The club had a good infield, a good hitting and fielding outfield, a good backstop and a fair pitching staff. These teams stacked up well on paper. But the managerial department was the weak spot. Very few fans held much confidence in McGuire, Stovall, Lajoie, Davis and Birmingham. Birmy seemed to have the best support of the lot, but failed to turn the trick. When Birmy stepped out on May 22, 1915, Lee Fohl got the job. Once more, the fans said, nothing doing. Fohl was a bush leaguer and a coach of pitchers. In justice to the Cleveland gang, it must be said though, that they backed these men to the limit.

Dunn Give Fohl Plenty of Chance.

When Jim Dunn, after purchasing the Cleveland club, paid $50,000 for Speaker, everybody figured Spoke would be manager immediately. Tris, however, took his place in center field and Fohl continued as manager. "I'm taking nobody's word for Fohl's ability. In fairness to him I am giving him a chance to show me what he can do," said Dunn.

Fohl realized that Speaker was one of the brainiest men in the game and immediately there was a working agreement whereby Speaker was virtually field manager.

Speaker Slowly Builds Up Team.

The team Dunn gave Speaker differed little from that which Fohl had under his hand. But Speaker had been busy with Fohl and Jim. Following Speaker's arrival Dunn had signed Pitcher Joe Wood on Speaker's suggestion and Wood was converted into an outfielder. The third basing problem troubled the Indians and a deal was quietly put through whereby the Indians obtained Larry Gardner from the Athletics. Gardner was a veteran and figured to be about through, so the deal didn't cause much furore.

In the 1919 campaign, the Indians had Joe Harris as their premier first baseman. Harris balked for a mint of money this spring and his demands weren't met. Speaker elected to take a chance on Doc Johnston, a more spectacular player, but susceptible to injury.

The team lacked a southpaw and Dunn got two for Speaker this spring. Here is what has happened: Larry Gardner is playing the game of his life at third base and is a wonder on offense and defense. Doc Johnston is playing wonderful ball at first and hitting hard. He is playing much of the time under the handicap of his chronic charley horse. Joe Wood, alternating with Elmer Smith in right field, is playing his part in the offense.

The weakening of Jack Graney's legs this spring gave Speaker a left field problem which he solved by alternating Jamieson and Joe Evans, slated for infield work, in that berth. The two southpaw pitchers fizzled, but judicious handling of Ray Caldwell, so-called has-been, and Guy Morton helped Coveleskie and Bagby keep up the pitching end. The other day Guy Morton pitched a one-hit game against the Red Sox, which makes it look as if Speaker had him in form.

Under Speaker's guidance the Cleveland club is leading the league in batting. Speaker is himself showing the way by also leading the circuit in batting. The team is the cleanest fielding team in the league, late records show. While its batting is heavy, the presence of Chapman and Speaker and Gardner give it a versatile attack with which it can cross the opposition any minute.

In short, the team seems to have the wallop this year, and the man behindthe wallop seems to be Tris Speaker.

TAD'S TID-BITS

OVERCONFIDENCE IN THE RING

Many a good bloke has stopped one with his chin from a sucker picked out and set aside for a showing.

Didn't Kid McCoy select Jack McCormick for a spread one night and get knocked out himself in the first round?

Wasn't Jim Corbett a mile in the lead in his fight with Jeff, only to be knocked stiff in the twenty-third round? Corbett admits himself that, instead of worrying about the set-up in front of him, he was thinking of the big posters that he'd get out reading, "James J. Corbett, champion of the world."

Do you remember the night at the Garden when Kid Williams fought Frank Klaus? Williams had never been knocked out and Klaus was an unknown. Williams was breezing for two rounds and had to laugh, the thing was so soft. He jabbed Klaus in the nose along about the fourth round, and, winking to the press stand, piped: "A dime a dozen for this kind."

A moment later a right-hander caught Williams right on the chin and he was out for twenty minutes.

Benny Leonard took on Willie Ritchie in 'Frisco a year or so ago, really expecting to tip Willie over in two rounds. Beany was so sure that he was willing to bet his end of the purse that he'd stop Ritchie.

Instead of stopping him, Benny took a pretty good pasting himself, and had his left eye closed tight, to boot.

Look at old John Barleycorn. He'd never been knocked off his feet. Last year, however, when John wasn't looking and most of the were over fighting the Germans, they hit him from behind and knocked him for a goal.

A Shade the Worst of It.

Mississippi, the little colored featherweight, of Philadelphia, was never in favor of the bloke who gets out the record books. "Sipp," as they called him, looked over the book one day and on page 45 was his record. It said: "MISSISSIPPI, featherweight, Color, black.

"Now dat ain't right, nohow," piped Sipp. "Ah ain't black. You might call me tantalizing brown, but NEVER black."

NOTICE, INDEPENDENTS

The Canton Nationals, scheduling games for a trip through this section within the near future are looking for games here. Manager Russell Eymann, of 1433 Market avenue S., Canton, writes as follows:

"The Nationals, 'B' champs of this section, are making a trip through your section the week preceding Labor day, ending on that day at Wellsburg, W. Va. We have Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 4 and 5, open and would like to meet the local club or some other strong aggregation in that section. We are amateurs and average 21 years of age, but have an exceptionally fast crew, five men being from colleges over the states, including Sprangle, of Mt. Union; Clemens of O. S. U.; Lawrence, Wesram pitcher; Parks, of Case, and Fisher, of W. Va. Wesleyan."

Benny Leonard took on Willie Ritchie in 'Frisco a year or so ago, really expecting to tip Willie over in two rounds. Benny was so sure that he was willing to bet his end of the purse that he'd stop Ritchie.

Instead of stopping him, Benny took a pretty good pasting himself, and had his left eye closed tight, to boot.

Look at old John Barleycorn. He'd never been knocked off his feet. Last year, however, when John wasn't looking and most of the were over fighting the Germans, they hit him from behind and knocked him for a goal.

A Shade the Worst of It.

Mississippi, the little colored featherweight, of Philadelphia, was never in favor of the bloke who gets out the record books. "Sipp," as they called him, looked over the book one day and on page 45 was his record. It said: "MISSISSIPPI, featherweight, Color, black.

"Now dat ain't right, nohow," piped Sipp. "Ah ain't black. You might call me tantalizing brown, but NEVER black."

The Canton Nationals, scheduling games for a trip through this section within the near future are looking for games here. Manager Russell Eymann, of 1433 Market avenue S., Canton, writes as follows:

"The Nationals, 'B' champs of this section, are making a trip through your section the week preceding Labor day, ending on that day at Wellsburg, W. Va. We have Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 4 and 5, open and would like to meet the local club or some other strong aggregation in that section. We are amateurs and average 21 years of age, but have an exceptionally fast crew, five men being from colleges over the states, including Sprankle, of Mt. Union; Clemens of O. S. U.; Lawrence, W. Va. pitcher; Parks, of Case, and Fisher, of W. Va. Wesleyan."

Many mineral springs were known to be used by the Romans.

I WANT TO BE YOUR CHOICE
For County Recorder
JOHN R. REARK
50 Years in East Liverpool. Endorsed by Trades and Labor Council.
Beaten by Only 32 Votes at the Last Primaries. Will You Help Me Win This Time?
I WILL APPRECIATE IT.

VOTE FOR
PAUL H. SMITH
FOR RECORDER
A Straight Forward Administration.
Your Vote Will Be Appreciated
Subject to the Decision of the Republican Primaries August 10th.

To the Democrats of the Eighteenth Congressional District of Ohio:

At the request of many Democrats of this district I promised to accept the nomination for Representative to Congress, if I prove to be the choice of the voters at the primary on August 10 If so nominated I hope to make an earnest campaign in support of our spendid Presidential Ticket, Cox and Roosevelt, and the national platform. Conditions demand alertness of every patriotic citizen, and I request you, fellow Democrats to attend the primary and write my name on the ticket, and place an "X" before it.

Hopefully Yours,

ALBERT O. BARNES, Cadiz, Ohio.

VACATIONING WITH FILM STARS

Irene Rich.

A swim and a romp on the beach with her two lovely collies is the daily routine of Irene Rich, the pretty actress who has recently joined the Goldwyn forces. Miss Rich is another of the motion picture actresses who stays right near the Pacific ocean when she gets a vacation. She is an expert swimmer and would never consider a vacation which was not spent mostly in the water. "I always go where it's wet for my vacations," she facetiously remarked.

I HAVE for sale one modern home of 7 rooms, two large halls, bath, cement cellar, large front porch enclosed, back porch, furnace electric lights, modern in every respect; five minutes' walk from Diamond; not on hill. Address Care of S 3, Evening Review.

VACATIONING WITH FILM STARS

Irene Rich.

A swim and a romp on the beach with her two lovely collies is the daily routine of Irene Rich, the pretty actress who has recently joined the Goldwyn forces. Miss Rich is another of the motion picture actresses who stays right near the Pacific ocean when she gets a vacation. She is an expert swimmer and would never consider a vacation which was not spent mostly in the water. "I always go where it's wet for my vacations," she facetiously remarked.

MICKEY M'BRIDE HEADS BRIDGEWATER CLUB HERE SUNDAY

INDIES FACING REAL STRUGGLE

Big "Mickey" McBride, who has flattened more baseballs and caused more heartaches to local clubs than any one individual player, and who has become a fixtures in Ohio valley baseball circles in recent years, will head the Bridgewater (Pa.) club that plays the Independents at West End park Sunday afternoon. McBride is one of the best known ball players in the valley. His performances on East Liverpool lots in past years have stamped him as one of the fastest semi-professional players who ever appeared here. He can easily hold rank with Mahl Myers, now in the Virginia league; "Pick" Nalley of Toronto, now in the South Atlantic league, and the Grimes brothers, Roy and Ray, members of the Eastern association, all of whom have figured in box scores here at one time or another in the last several years.

Accompanying McBride as a dozen or so of tossers of first-class semi-professional caliber from Beaver county. The Bridgewater club lays claim to no great distinction other than their record. They have not been defeated this season and have victories over Beaver Falls and Ambridge "Our Boys." They have not played the Ambridge semi-professional club yet. According to McBride, who was here several days ago, the Bridgewater club is now arranging a series with the Townsends, another good aggregation. This will furnish a real test of their ability.

Ray Pollock will likely be picked for slab work, according to Manager Shel Pyle. Bill Merchant will undoubtedly be stationed on the initial cushion. Both Pollock and Merchant were offered good berths with the Clarksburg (W. Va.) independent club, through the medium of Barney Bricelin, who, in addition to handling one of the Clarksburg city league clubs, is an umpire for the representative aggregation. With the major part of the season gone, however, both lads decided to stick to their jobs here and finish out the schedule with the Independents.

Sunday's game will start at 3:15, the regular time.

Croquet developed from a French game of the 13th century.

The first organs were several flutes set on end over a bellows.

LOCALS CLAIM FORFEIT GAME

Molbroughs Leave Field In Seventh Winning With Score Tied.

Darkness last night ended the game between the Liberty A. C. and the Molbrough A. C. of Wellsville, staged at West End park. The score was tied, 4-4, when the colored tossers left the field.

Manager Shel Pyle said today that he will claim a forfeited game in spite of the fact that the score ended 4-4. The situation in the seventh inning when the game was brought to an abrupt end was as follows: The score stood 4-3 in favor of the colored lads when the locals came to bat in their half of the inning, after giving the Molbroughs their half. A hit and an error brought across the tieing run for the Libertys. Windland went to bat and poled a line drive over second. With Windland on base and one man out the heavy end of the Liberty batting order coming to bat, the Molbroughs left the field, declaring that it was too dark to play. As a result of this action Manager Pyle claims a victory, inasmuch as two outs were necessary to officially bring the game to a close.

The score:

IS TRIS SPEAKER GOING TO WIN WHERE OTHERS FAILED?

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Is Tris Speaker, fiery Texan, going to ride to victory in the American league free for all, the Cleveland entry which has gone lame at the stretch year after year?

Anyone who tries to pick a winner in the aforesaid A. L. scramble right now is dippy. The Yanks, the White Sox, by a not unusual spurt, can overhaul and pass the Indians, but right now the Indians are out in front and holding the lead they have kept the greater part of the summer.

As I look at it, if the Indians cop, Tris Speaker will be the man who will have turned the trick. Recall the seasons preceding Speaker's arrival on April 12th, 1916. The club had a good infield, a good hitting and fielding outfield, a good backstop and a fair pitching staff. These teams stacked up well on paper. But the managerial department was the weak spot. Very few fans held much confidence in McGuire, Stovall, Lajoie, Davis and Birmingham. Birmy seemed to have the best support of the lot, but failed to turn the trick. When Birmy stepped out on May 22, 1915, Lee Fohl got the job. Once more, the fans said, nothing doing. Fohl was a bush leaguer and a coach of pitchers. In justice to the Cleveland gang, it must be said though, that they backed these men to the limit.

Dunn Give Fohl Plenty of Chance.

When Jim Dunn, after purchasing the Cleveland club, paid $50,000 for Speaker, everybody figured Spoke would be manager immediately. Tris, however, took his place in center field and Fohl continued as manager. "I'm taking nobody's word for Fohl's ability. In fairness to him I am giving him a chance to show me what he can do," said Dunn.

Fohl realized that Speaker was one of the brainiest men in the game and immediately there was a working agreement whereby Speaker was virtually field manager.

Speaker Slowly Builds Up Team.

The team Dunn gave Speaker differed little from that which Fohl had under his hand. But Speaker had been busy with Fohl and Jim. Following Speaker's arrival Dunn had signed Pitcher Joe Wood on Speaker's suggestion and Wood was converted into an outfielder. The third basing problem troubled the Indians and a deal was quietly put through whereby the Indians obtained Larry Gardner from the Athletics. Gardner was a veteran and figured to be about through, so the deal didn't cause much furore.

In the 1919 campaign, the Indians had Joe Harris as their premier first baseman. Harris balked for a mint of money this spring and his demands weren't met. Speaker elected to take a chance on Doc Johnston, a more spectacular player, but susceptible to injury.

The team lacked a southpaw and Dunn got two for Speaker this spring. Here is what has happened: Larry Gardner is playing the game of his life at third base and is a wonder on offense and defense. Doc Johnston is playing wonderful ball at first and hitting hard. He is playing much of the time under the handicap of his chronic charley horse. Joe Wood, alternating with Elmer Smith in right field, is playing his part in the offense.

The weakening of Jack Graney's legs this spring gave Speaker a left field problem which he solved by alternating Jamieson and Joe Evans, slated for infield work, in that berth. The two southpaw pitchers fizzled, but judicious handling of Ray Caldwell, so-called has-been, and Guy Morton helped Coveleskie and Bagby keep up the pitching end. The other day Guy Morton pitched a one-hit game against the Red Sox, which makes it look as if Speaker had him in form.

Under Speaker's guidance the Cleveland club is leading the league in batting. Speaker is himself showing the way by also leading the circuit in batting. The team is the cleanest fielding team in the league, late records show. While its batting is heavy, the presence of Chapman and Speaker and Gardner give it a versatile attack with which it can cross the opposition any minute.

In short, the team seems to have the wallop this year, and the man behindthe wallop seems to be Tris Speaker.

TAD'S TID-BITS

OVERCONFIDENCE IN THE RING

Many a good bloke has stopped one with his chin from a sucker picked out and set aside for a showing.

Didn't Kid McCoy select Jack McCormick for a spread one night and get knocked out himself in the first round?

Wasn't Jim Corbett a mile in the lead in his fight with Jeff, only to be knocked stiff in the twenty-third round? Corbett admits himself that, instead of worrying about the set-up in front of him, he was thinking of the big posters that he'd get out reading, "James J. Corbett, champion of the world."

Do you remember the night at the Garden when Kid Williams fought Frank Klaus? Williams had never been knocked out and Klaus was an unknown. Williams was breezing for two rounds and had to laugh, the thing was so soft. He jabbed Klaus in the nose along about the fourth round, and, winking to the press stand, piped: "A dime a dozen for this kind."

A moment later a right-hander caught Williams right on the chin and he was out for twenty minutes.

Benny Leonard took on Willie Ritchie in 'Frisco a year or so ago, really expecting to tip Willie over in two rounds. Benny was so sure that he was willing to bet his end of the purse that he'd stop Ritchie.

Instead of stopping him, Benny took a pretty good pasting himself, and had his left eye closed tight, to boot.

Look at old John Barleycorn. He'd never been knocked off his feet. Last year, however, when John wasn't looking and most of the were over fighting the Germans, they hit him from behind and knocked him for a goal.

A Shade the Worst of It.

Mississippi, the little colored featherweight, of Philadelphia, was never in favor of the bloke who gets out the record books. "Sipp," as they called him, looked over the book one day and on page 45 was his record. It said: "MISSISSIPPI, featherweight, Color, black.

"Now dat ain't right, nohow," piped Sipp. "Ah ain't black. You might call me tantalizing brown, but NEVER black."

The Canton Nationals, scheduling games for a trip through this section within the near future are looking for games here. Manager Russell Eymann, of 1433 Market avenue S., Canton, writes as follows:

"The Nationals, 'B' champs of this section, are making a trip through your section the week preceding Labor day, ending on that day at Wellsburg, W. Va. We have Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 4 and 5, open and would like to meet the local club or some other strong aggregation in that section. We are amateurs and average 21 years of age, but have an exceptionally fast crew, five men being from colleges over the states, including Sprankle, of Mt. Union; Clemens of O. S. U.; Lawrence, freshman pitcher; Parks, of Case, and Fisher, of W. Va. Wesleyan."

Ohio Valley Star's First Appearance Here for Several Years—Ray Pollock Will Likely Start for Locals.

Big "Mickey" McBride, who has flattened more baseballs and caused more heartaches to local clubs than any one individual player, and who has become a fixtures in Ohio valley baseball circles in recent years, will head the Bridgewater (Pa.) club that plays the Independents at West End park Sunday afternoon. McBride is one of the best known ball players in the valley. His performances on East Liverpool lots in past years have stamped him as one of the fastest semi-professional players who ever appeared here. He can easily hold rank with Mahl Myers, now in the Virginia league; "Pick" Nalley of Toronto, now in the South Atlantic league, and the Grimes brothers, Roy and Ray, members of the Eastern association, all of whom have figured in box scores here at one time or another in the last several years.

Accompanying McBride as a dozen or so of tossers of first-class semi-professional caliber from Beaver county. The Bridgewater club lays claim to no great distinction other than their record. They have not been defeated this season and have victories over Beaver Falls and Ambridge "Our Boys." They have not played the Ambridge semi-professional club yet. According to McBride, who was here several days ago, the Bridgewater club is now arranging a series with the Townsends, another good aggregation. This will furnish a real test of their ability.

Ray Pollock will likely be picked for slab work, according to Manager Shel Pyle. Bill Merchant will undoubtedly be stationed on the initial cushion. Both Pollock and Merchant were offered good berths with the Clarksburg (W. Va.) independent club, through the medium of Barney Bricelin, who, in addition to handling one of the Clarksburg city league clubs, is an umpire for the representative aggregation. With the major part of the season gone, however, both lads decided to stick to their jobs here and finish out the schedule with the Independents.

Sunday's game will start at 3:15, the regular time.

LOCALS CLAIM FORFEIT GAME

Molbroughs Leave Field In Seventh Winning With Score Tied.

Darkness last night ended the game between the Liberty A. C. and the Molbrough A. C. of Wellsville, staged at West End park. The score was tied, 4-4, when the colored tossers left the field.

Manager Shel Pyle said today that he will claim a forfeited game in spite of the fact that the score ended 4-4. The situation in the seventh inning when the game was brought to an abrupt end was as follows: The score stood 4-3 in favor of the colored lads when the locals came to bat in their half of the inning, after giving the Molbroughs their half. A hit and an error brought across the tieing run for the Libertys. Windland went to bat and poled a line drive over second. With Windland on base and one man out the heavy end of the Liberty batting order coming to bat, the Molbroughs left the field, declaring that it was too dark to play. As a result of this action Manager Pyle claims a victory, inasmuch as two outs were necessary to officially bring the game to a close.

IS TRIS SPEAKER GOING TO WIN WHERE OTHERS FAILED?

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Is Tris Speaker, fiery Texan, going to ride to victory in the American league free for all, the Cleveland entry which has gone lame at the stretch year after year?

Anyone who tries to pick a winner in the aforesaid A. L. scramble right now is dippy. The Yanks, the White Sox, by a not unusual spurt, can overhaul and pass the Indians, but right now the Indians are out in front and holding the lead they have kept the greater part of the summer.

As I look at it, if the Indians cop, Tris Speaker will be the man who will have turned the trick. Recall the seasons preceding Speaker's arrival on April 12th, 1916. The club had a good infield, a good hitting and fielding outfield, a good backstop and a fair pitching staff. These teams stacked up well on paper. But the managerial department was the weak spot. Very few fans held much confidence in McGuire, Stovall, Lajoie, Davis and Birmingham. Birmy seemed to have the best support of the lot, but failed to turn the trick. When Birmy stepped out on May 22, 1915, Lee Fohl got the job. Once more, the fans said, nothing doing. Fohl was a bush leaguer and a coach of pitchers. In justice to the Cleveland gang, it must be said though, that they backed these men to the limit.

Dunn Give Fohl Plenty of Chance.

When Jim Dunn, after purchasing the Cleveland club, paid $50,000 for Speaker, everybody figured Spoke would be manager immediately. Tris, however, took his place in center field and Fohl continued as manager. "I'm taking nobody's word for Fohl's ability. In fairness to him I am giving him a chance to show me what he can do," said Dunn.

Fohl realized that Speaker was one of the brainiest men in the game and immediately there was a working agreement whereby Speaker was virtually field manager.

Speaker Slowly Builds Up Team.

The team Dunn gave Speaker differed little from that which Fohl had under his hand. But Speaker had been busy with Fohl and Jim. Following Speaker's arrival Dunn had signed Pitcher Joe Wood on Speaker's suggestion and Wood was converted into an outfielder. The third basing problem troubled the Indians and a deal was quietly put through whereby the Indians obtained Larry Gardner from the Athletics. Gardner was a veteran and figured to be about through, so the deal didn't cause much furore.

In the 1919 campaign, the Indians had Joe Harris as their premier first baseman. Harris balked for a mint of money this spring and his demands weren't met. Speaker elected to take a chance on Doc Johnston, a more spectacular player, but susceptible to injury.

The team lacked a southpaw and Dunn got two for Speaker this spring. Here is what has happened: Larry Gardner is playing the game of his life at third base and is a wonder on offense and defense. Doc Johnston is playing wonderful ball at first and hitting hard. He is playing much of the time under the handicap of his chronic charley horse. Joe Wood, alternating with Elmer Smith in right field, is playing his part in the offense.

The weakening of Jack Graney's legs this spring gave Speaker a left field problem which he solved by alternating Jamieson and Joe Evans, slated for infield work, in that berth. The two southpaw pitchers fizzled, but judicious handling of Ray Caldwell, so-called has-been, and Guy Morton helped Coveleskie and Bagby keep up the pitching end. The other day Guy Morton pitched a one-hit game against the Red Sox, which makes it look as if Speaker had him in form.

Under Speaker's guidance the Cleveland club is leading the league in batting. Speaker is himself showing the way by also leading the circuit in batting. The team is the cleanest fielding team in the league, late records show. While its batting is heavy, the presence of Chapman and Speaker and Gardner give it a versatile attack with which it can cross the opposition any minute.

In short, the team seems to have the wallop this year, and the man behindthe wallop seems to be Tris Speaker.

VACATIONING WITH FILM STARS

Irene Rich.

A swim and a romp on the beach with her two lovely collies is the daily routine of Irene Rich, the pretty actress who has recently joined the Goldwyn forces. Miss Rich is another of the motion picture actresses who stays right near the Pacific ocean when she gets a vacation. She is an expert swimmer and would never consider a vacation which was not spent mostly in the water. "I always go where it's wet for my vacations," she facetiously remarked.

I HAVE for sale one modern home of 7 rooms, two large halls, bath, cement cellar, large front porch enclosed, back porch, furnace electric lights, modern in every respect; five minutes' walk from Diamond; not on hill. Address Care of S 3, Evening Review.

STATISTICS ON POTTERY OUTPUT

Department of Interior Reports Production of American Potteries for Fiscal Year of 1918 Was 93 per cent of Consumption.

BY M. K. ZIMERMAN

Official records and statistics of the production and distribution of pottery products for the fiscal year of 1918 which has just been announced by the clay working industries division of the Department of the Interior discloses the fact that the per capita cost for pottery to consumers based upon the reported valuation of production coupled with that of imported ware was less than 70 cents per an.num.

The production of the American potteries for that year has been reported 93 percent of the consumption the highest proportion ever recorded in the history of the American pottery industry.

The value of pottery imported into the United States in 1918, added to that of the domestic pottery marketed, amounted to a total of $71,616,531. After deducting from this sum the value of the exports of domestic wares, approximately $1,479,552, and of the re-exports of foreign ware, $70,099, the value o fthe apparent net consumption was $70,066,880, of which the domestic production was 93 per cent, the highest proportion recorded. In 1917 and 1916 it was 92 per cent. In 1915 this percentage was 86; in 1914 it was 82; and in 1913 it was 80.

Columbiana County, in which East Liverpool is located, was the leading pottery-producing county in Ohio and in the country. Its output in 1918 was valued at $11,312,660, or 44 per cent of the entire output of the State, an increase of $2,166,270, or 24 per cent. The value of white ware, marketed in this county in 1918 was $8,951,430, or more than half that of the State's output of white ware ,an increase of $1,386,576, or 18 per cent.

Mahoning County, (Sebring) was second in value of pottery, reporting ware valued at $3,591,174. Of this sum white ware constituted $3,437,674.

Summit County, (Akron) was third with wares valued at $2,471,074.

Columbiana and Mahoning counties, Ohio, and Hancock County, W. Va., contiguous territory, form the largest pottery center of the country, a center that grew out of the pottery industry started at East Liverpool, Ohio, in 1840. The value of the pottery marketed in these three counties in 1918, mostly all of the higher grades, was more than $17,000,000.

New Jersey was the second largest pottery-producing State. For 1918 it reported wares valued at $12,570,842, a small increase—$34,999—over 1917. This small gain in the value of pottery in New Jersey was due to the fact that the principal pottery product of the State is sanitary ware, which showed a considerable decrease there, as well as in most of the other states. New Jersey's output of sanitary ware was valued at $6,151,752, a decrease of $1,050,919, of 15 per cent.

Sanitary ware constituted 49 per cent of the value of the State's production of pottery in 1918, and New Jersey reported 55 percent of the entire output. Mercer County, in which Trenton is located, led in 1918 with wares valued at $10,219,282, or more than 81 per cent of the state's total, a decrease of $230,455, or 2 per cent. Sanitary ware was the chief product, valued at $5,329,846, or 52 per cent of the county's output of pottery. Middlesex County was second with products valued at $1,187,875, an increase of $199,457, or 20 per cent over 1917.

West Virginia ranks third among the pottery-producing States in value of output and reported over 13 per cent of the total for 1918. Its pottery products (valued at $8,693,206 in 1918) increased $1,449,306 or 20 per cent, over 1917. White ware, West Virginia's principal pottery product, was valued at $5,480,581 ,an increase of $1,058,564, or 24 per cent. White ware constituted 63 per cent of the total value of West Virginia's pottery products in 1918.

It is also a large producer of sanitary ware and reported 12 per cent of the entire output, which showed a small decrease in 1918. Hancock County, (Chester and Newell) the northern most county in the panhandle of West Virginia, opposite East Liverpool, marketed pottery wares in 1918 valued at $4,630,302, or 32 per cent of the state's total, an increase of $941,450 or 26 per cent over 1917. Nearly all this output ($4,544,432) was white ware.

The number of states reported producing pottery in 1918 was 38, the same number as for 1917. Two states, Maine and Montana, reported no pottery for 1918, and two states, Arizona, and New Mexico, entered the list as producers of Indian pottery. There are however, only a few states that reported the higher grades of ware.

In 1918 New Jersey, Ohio and Pennsylvania each reported every kind of ware classified in this report, and New York reported every kind except stone ware.

Ohio, the leading pottery-producing state, reported for 1918 wares valued at $25,779,654, or nearly 40 per cent of the total, an increase of $4,425,948, or 21 per cent, over 1917. The State's principal pottery product was white ware valued at $15,779,620, which was an increase of $2,556,794, or 19 per cent over 1917. The value of the white ware made was 61 per cent of the value of the entire pottery output of Ohio in 1918, and the State's output of this ware was 62 per cent of the output of the country.

Ohio's second product in value in 1918 was porcelain electrical supplies, valued at $3,386,555, an increase of $239,393, or 9 per cent over 1917.

The value of all domestic pottery marketed in 1918 was $65,222,951, an increase of $9,060,429, or 16 per cent, over the value in 1917. The increase in 1917 over 1916 was $7,945,280, or 16 per cent. The value in 1918 was the greatest recorded by the pottery industry in the United States. It was $17,239,576, or nearly 72 per cent, greater than that of 1913, more than twice as great as that of any year prior to 1910, and more than six times as great as in 1897. Pottery imports also increased very slightly, and the ratio of production to consumption, 93, per cent, was the highest recorded.

Every variety of ware except red earthenware and sanitary ware, increased in value as compared with 1917, and all except these two attained their maximum values.

White ware, which includes the commoner grades of household wares, showed the largest increase, $4,385,457 or 21 per cent; porcelain electrical supplies, the only pottery product used directly in military and naval field operations, increased $3,054,384, or 32 per cent; and china, the pottery of highest grade, increased $1,501,443, or 21 per cent.

The value of china in 1918 was four times as great as it was in 1908, a fact which, even allowing for inflated values, augurs well for the future of the pottery inudstry. ed earthenware decreased in value $158,324 or 15 per cent, and saintary ware decreased in value $1,295,079, or 11 per cent. One of the causes assigned for the decrease in the red earthenware was the curtailment by the Fuel Administration of uel to florists, who are very large users of flowerpots.

The value of white ware and china which comprise the general household wares and constitute nearly half of the value of all pottery products, was $31,613,275 in 1918, an increase of $5,886,900, or 23 per cent over 1917. If to this sum is added the value of saintary ware and porcelain electrical supplies, the total value in 1918 of these high-grade wares was $55,360,383 or $7,546,205 more than in 1917, and constituted 85 per cent of the value of all pottery products in 1918.

Chemical pottery—that is, chemical stoneware and chemical porcelain—which was so necessary to the manufacture of munitions of war, naturally increased greatly in both quantity and value. The increase in 1918 was $670,278, or 61 per cent. Chemical stoneware, valued at $1,547,779, increased in value $615,866 or 66 per cent. Chemical porcelain, which is a comparatively new product, for the United States, was valued at $221,921, an increase of $54,412, or nearly 33 per cent.

EAST END PLAYLOT BALL TEAM DEFEATED

The boys' baseball team representing the Central playground won the final game of the 11-game series against the East End playlot club on Friday afternoon. The score was 9 to 0. The final standing of the two teams is six victories for the downtown boys and five for the East End club.

The pitching of English for the victors was the features of the game. He allowed the East End boys but one scratch hit. Komo, East End pitcher, proved easy for the downtown sluggers, his offerings being hammered to all corners of the field.

The Central team now claims the playground championship of the city. It is probable that a series of seven games will be arranged between the Central boys and the Wellsville playground team.

COLORED REPUBLICAN MEETING HELD HERE

The East End branch of the Liverpool Township Colored club held a meeting in the Second Baptist church, Pennsylvania avenue, Friday evening. Rev. R. I. Hall, pastor of the Second Baptist church, presided. Nearly a score of candidates for the various county offices attended the meeting, each candidate making a five-minute speech. Another meeting will be held on Monday night. Fifteen new members were enrolled at last night's meeting.

No Preaching Services.

There will be no preaching services at the Second Presbyterian church of East End Sunday. Rev. J. M. Diehl, pastor of the church, is attending a Bible conference and will not return to the city until next week.

Klondike All Stars Win.

The Klondike All Stars defeated a team from Chester, W. Va., in an exciting game at the Klondike grounds Thursday evening. The score was 8 to 5.

The All Stars will line up against th estrong Pleasant Heights team on the Pleasant Heights grounds Sunday afternoon.

NAME DELEGATE TO STATE LEGION MEET

With the appointment of a delegate and alternate, representation from East Liverpool post No. 4, American Legion, to the second annual convention of the American Legion of Ohio at Youngstown August 23-24 is assured.

William S. Foulks has been named delegate and George Wright, alternate, to the state meet.

Columbiana county will have at least 20 delegates at the Youngstown conclave.

To Open Branch Office.

A branch office of the Prostor and Schwartz company of Philadelphia, Pa., ceramic supplies manufacturers, will be opened in Pittsburg to take care of the middle western pottery district. The concern recently absorbed the Ceramic Equipment company of Trenton, N. J.

The day has been divided into 24 hours from earliest times.

28 ABSENTEES CAST BALLOTS IN PRIMARIES

Twenty-eight ballots out of a total of 52 applications for voters' supplies were cast up to 10 o'clock Friday night under the absent voters' law, election board officials announced Saturday.

To accommodate persons who were out of the city or who could not by any valid reason register at the regular registration, at a special registration will be held Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock at election board headquarters. Transfers will be granted at the respective precincts Monday from 6 to 8 p. m.

About 30 ounces of gutta percha is obtained from one tree.

To Erect Soldier's Memorial Hall.

A quota of $106,000 has been given alumni of Mt. Union college in Columbiana, Stark and Mahoning counties to be used in the erection of a soldiers' memorial hall on the college campus.

The edifice would commemorate the services rendered by Mt. Union college men and eastern Ohio ex-service men during the world war. The balance of the required building fund will be raised among outside friends of the college.

Columbus—The police believe the first theft of a 1921 model machine here has just taken place. George Stanert, Columbus, told the police that his new 1921 roadster, costing $2,000, was stolen from in front of the state house.

Sanitary ware constituted 49 per cent of the value of the State's production of pottery in 1918, and New Jersey reported 55 percent of the entire output. Mercer County, in which Trenton is located, led in 1918 with wares valued at $10,219,282, or more than 81 per cent of the state's total, a decrease of $230,455, or 2 per cent. Sanitary ware was the chief product, valued at $5,329,846, or 52 per cent of the county's output of pottery. Middlesex County was second with products valued at $1,187,875, an increase of $199,457, or 20 per cent over 1917.

West Virginia ranks third among the pottery-producing States in value of output and reported over 13 per cent of the total for 1918. Its pottery products (valued at $8,693,206 in 1918) increased $1,449,306 or 20 per cent, over 1917. White ware, West Virginia's principal pottery product, was valued at $5,480,581 ,an increase of $1,058,564, or 24 per cent. White ware constituted 63 per cent of the total value of West Virginia's pottery products in 1918.

It is also a large producer of sanitary ware and reported 12 per cent of the entire output, which showed a small decrease in 1918. Hancock County, (Chester and Newell) the northern most county in the panhandle of West Virginia, opposite East Liverpool, marketed pottery wares in 1918 valued at $4,630,302, or 32 per cent of the state's total, an increase of $941,450 or 26 per cent over 1917. Nearly all this output ($4,544,432) was white ware.

The number of states reported producing pottery in 1918 was 38, the same number as for 1917. Two states, Maine and Montana, reported no pottery for 1918, and two states, Arizona, and New Mexico, entered the list as producers of Indian pottery. There are however, only a few states that reported the higher grades of ware.

In 1918 New Jersey, Ohio and Pennsylvania each reported every kind of ware classified in this report, and New York reported every kind except stone ware.

Ohio, the leading pottery-producing state, reported for 1918 wares valued at $25,779,654, or nearly 40 per cent of the total, an increase of $4,425,948, or 21 per cent, over 1917. The State's principal pottery product was white ware valued at $15,779,620, which was an increase of $2,556,794, or 19 per cent, over 1917. The value of the white ware made was 61 per cent of the value of the entire pottery output of Ohio in 1918, and the State's output of this ware was 62 per cent of the output of the country.

Ohio's second product in value in 1918 was porcelain electrical supplies, valued at $3,386,555, an increase of $290,393, or 9 per cent over 1917.

The value of all domestic pottery marketed in 1918 was $65,222,951, an increase of $9,060,429, or 16 per cent, over the value in 1917. The increase in 1917 over 1916 was $7,945,280, or 16 per cent. The value in 1918 was the greatest recorded by the pottery industry in the United States. It was $17,230,576, or nearly 72 per cent, greater than that of 1913, more than twice as great as that of any year prior to 1910, and more than six times as great as in 1897. Pottery imports also increased very slightly, and the ratio of production to consumption, 93, per cent, was the highest recorded.

Every variety of ware except red earthenware and sanitary ware, increased in value as compared with 1917, and all except these two attained their maximum values.

White ware, which includes the commoner grades of household wares, showed the largest increase, $4,385,457 or 21 per cent; porcelain electrical supplies, the only pottery product used directly in military and naval field operations, increased $3,054,384, or 32 per cent; and china, the pottery of highest grade, increased $1,501,443, or 21 per cent.

The value of china in 1918 was four times as great as it was in 1908, a fact which, even allowing for inflated values, augurs well for the future of the pottery inudstry. ed earthenware decreased in value $158,324 or 15 per cent, and saintary ware decreased in value $1,295,079, or 11 per cent. One of the causes assigned for the decrease in the red earthenware was the curtailment by the Fuel Administration of uel to florists, who are very large users of flowerpots.

The value of white ware and china which comprise the general household wares and constitute nearly half of the value of all pottery products, was $31,613,275 in 1918, an increase of $5,886,900, or 23 per cent over 1917. If to this sum is added the value of saintary ware and porcelain electrical supplies, the total value in 1918 of these high-grade wares was $55,360,383 or $7,546,205 more than in 1917, and constituted 85 per cent of the value of all pottery products in 1918.

Chemical pottery—that is, chemical stoneware and chemical porcelain—which was so necessary to the manufacture of munitions of war, naturally increased greatly in both quantity and value. The increase in 1918 was $670,278, or 61 per cent. Chemical stoneware, valued at $1,547,779, increased in value $615,866 or 66 per cent. Chemical porcelain, which is a comparatively new product, for the United States, was valued at $221,921, an increase of $54,412, or nearly 33 per cent.

EAST END PLAYLOT BALL TEAM DEFEATED

The boys' baseball team representing the Central playground won the final game of the 11-game series against the East End playlot club on Friday afternoon. The score was 9 to 0. The final standing of the two teams is six victories for the downtown boys and five for the East End club.

The pitching of English for the victors was the features of the game. He allowed the East End boys but one scratch hit. Komo, East End pitcher, proved easy for the downtown sluggers, his offerings being hammered to all corners of the field.

The Central team now claims the playground championship of the city. It is probable that a series of seven games will be arranged between the Central boys and the Wellsville playground team.

Are Taking Kindly to Simco Salve and C. T. Larkins, and F. R. Ashbaugh are reporting pleased customers.

SIM-CO SALVE is immediately active in reducing the soreness of the tender, sensitive lungs of infants or the lungs of the sturry parent alike, thereby reducing the fever.

The magic wonder is that relief comes so quickly. It frees clogged nostrils and inflamed air passages in the head, which inflammation sometimes leads to catarrah and impaired hearing.

SIM-CO SALVE is a modern, efficient ointment, active in killing germs and therefore gets prompt results when used for eczema and other skin troubles; distressing, tortured skin that burns, like fire is soothed immediately. Those common continued ear bealings and nose sores are checked by inserting small quantities of SIM-CO SALVE.

It is perfectly pliable and is a mighty good modern liniment for all liniment needs.

When you buy SIM-CO SALVE what you pay for is satisfaction and that is what we guarantee to you.

Better be prepared at once; go to C. T. Larkins' or F. R. Ashbaugh's drug store today and get a jar. Price 30c, 60c, and $1.00 per jar. If your druggist does not keep it, send us 35c and the parcel post will bring it to your door by return mail. Wm. M. Simpson Drug Co., Wholesale Druggists, Wilkinsburg Station, Pittsburg, Pa.

AMERICAN

—A STORY THAT IS DIFFERENT—

The city chap who won the simple mountain girl's love was NOT a villain. He was an all-around good fellow—yet perfectly square. MARY MILES MINTER makes a classic of the part of Easter Hicks, mountaineer's daughter. It's the greatest portrayal in the whole career of this brilliant young star. A "furriner," a city dweller, invades the sacred precincts of the mountain moonshine district and falls in love with her.

WE PROPHECY THAT YOU WILL FALL IN LOVE WITH HER, TOO, IN THIS, HER LATEST AND BEST PICTURE.

It all started in that ultra-modern hotel lobby. That's where she met the "city feller." No, he's not the villain who sought to bring about her downfall. Quite another person that. HE was the fellow who usually has a spotless reputation in the "movies." Talk about fun. You will laugh so much, so that it will bring tears to your eyes. Don't miss it.
